SOLDIER FACES ULTIMATE TEST

By Tim Spiers

A HEDNESFORD man is to undertake the challenge of a lifetime – running 150 miles across a desert in temperatures of up to 50 degrees.

Personal trainer Rob Arnold has been waiting for four years to take part in the Marathon des Sables, an extreme endurance test in the Sahara, which has in the past claimed two lives.

He was jetting out today (Thursday) and from April 8-14 will join 900 other competitors from 81 different countries to compete in the six-stage event. Throughout, he will have to carry his 14 kg bag of food and equipment himself.

Rob, who runs Cannock-based firm RAPT Fitness, has added motivation for completing the mammoth course. Having been in the armed forces for more than 14 years, he recently returned from his second tour of Afghanistan where he experienced the ultimate tragedy of military combat.

An IED (Improvised Explosive Device) blast left one colleague dead, another injured and several – including Rob – with lasting hearing damage.

Silence

The 32-year-old described the harrowing experience of the incident which claimed his colleague's life.

He said: "On my second tour of Afghanistan, battling the heat and sand there was an almighty bang, then silence apart from the high pitched ringing in my ears.

"Debris fell from the sky and I was unable to see for the sand and dust – my hair and kit covered was with grit and peppered with blood that had rained down."

On his return in March 2011 he decided to raise money for soldiers' charity the Army Benevolent Fund.

Rob Arnold, from Hednesford, who is competing in the Marathon des Sables

Training for the Marathon des Sables has included the Wolverhampton Marathon, Lichfield Half Marathon, Snowdonia Marathon and the Hell in The Middle on Cannock Chase.

However, the Marathon des Sables is described on its own website as being for "lunatics and masochists".

Rob, who has also served in Northern Ireland, Kosovo and Iraq, said: "Training's not been going too bad although I've had a few injuries. I've also been using my Siberian Husky as a running partner."

Caring cousins' charity exploits

TWO charitable 11-year-olds in Hednesford have raised more than £500 for charity through a series of fundraising exploits.

Cousins Lola Woolley and Ella Dewsbury have spent the past few months organising several events after deciding to raise money for Cancer Research.

They held a raffle at the Trafalgar pub, in Littleworth Road, as well as doing housework, cleaning jobs, Christmas present wrapping, car washes and even cleaning Lola's granddad's boat.

Lola's mum Emma Woolley said: "We're just really proud of them, especially because they've done it all by themselves.

Raffle

"Deb and Stuart from the Trafalgar really supported the girls too.

"They're already making plans for their next fundraising ideas."

Prizes for the raffle, which was held at the Trafalgar last weekend, included a giant Stella Artois beer glass.

The girls printed off an A4 sheet advertising the raffle, pleading with people to give £1 for a ticket which could give hope to a cancer sufferer.

Theatre hopefuls' deadline extended

THE DEADLINE has been extended for youngsters to apply for a theatre competition for which the winner will scoop £1,000 towards a performing arts career.

Bryan Till and Andy Reiss have organised the competition, which will see 10 finalists take part in a gala performance at the Prince of Wales Centre in Cannock.

After initially receiving a brilliant response for the premise of his Follow that Dream project, Bryan said the resulting take-up had been disappointing, so he was extending the deadline so that more youngsters could apply.

"We're quite gobsmacked that more people haven't been in touch," he said.

Celebration

"I'm wondering whether people think it sounds too good to be true."

Bryan runs the Melanie Till Memorial Fund, set up to remember the life of the teacher who died in a car accident in 2008.

In 2010 the charity organised A Schools' Celebration in Song, where children performed alongside BBC Last Choir Standing finalists Dreemz.

Auditions for Follow That Dream will take place next month.For details email followthatdream@orangehome.co.uk or call 07535 532525.

Scooter pros in shop visit

SCOOTER fans can get up close and personal with the professional team from Mad Gear Pro later this month. The MGB pros will be scooting along to Hednesford Cycles in High Green, Cannock, for a meet and greet and signing session. No date has been confirmed as yet.

The newly-opened store is an expansion of the existing business in Market Street, Hednesford and caters for cycling and scooter enthusiasts with a range of models and accessories.

Soccer the winner in American team tour

FOOTBALL became soccer for the day when Rugeley youngsters hosted visitors from America.

As part of a UK tour which included visits to Arsenal, Tottenham, Manchester United, Manchester City and Liverpool, Santa Barbara Soccer Club linked up with Rugeley-based Lakeside Juniors.

Santa Barbara had time to spare on their final day before departing from Heathrow and, after contacting officials at Lakeside, the match between the two under-12 teams was arranged for Sunday, April 1.

To accommodate their American visitors Lakeside raised British and American flags while both countries' national anthems were played by Rugeley Power Station Brass Band.

Result

Santa Barbara ran out 3-1 winners but Nikki Mullings, Lakeside club secretary, said parents of both sets of youngsters were cheering every goal that went in.

"The game was played in a great spirit and the result really didn't matter," said Nikki, whose son Sam plays in goal for Lakeside.

"It was a fantastic day and the kids got on famously.

"They had a meal together and inevitably ended up talking about David Beckham."

GERMAN ELECTRIC HEATING IS THE ANSWER

This incredible heating could be the answer to help beat the ever increasing energy costs and amazingly, it is not, gas or oil, or solid fuel - but electric! It's clean, Simple to install, Powerful, Economical, and no more servicing costs - EVER! All you need is a normal electricity supply and a plug socket and NO standard tariff like economy seven.

In Germany, Austria, Eastern Europe and even America, more and more people are choosing to heat their homes and offices with this very special form of electric heating in preference to gas, oil, LPG or any other form of conventional central heating or economy seven.

Here in the Midlands more and more of our customers are making that same decision and when you see this incredible heating for yourself, you could be next!

The heating looks just like a conventional radiator, but STOP! It is very, very different!

Put simply, the clunky central heating boiler needing constant servicing and replacement parts isn't the only choice any more!

Now you can choose to heat your homes, offices, extensions or conservatories with this incredible German heating which provides individual control over every single room without the need for a central control or space to site a boiler. Now the boiler space can also become a storage area!

Installation takes minutes and running is completely clean, there is no danger of leakage, no holes through walls, no floorboards up and no tradesmen trundling around the house wielding pipe cutters, hammers, wrenches and dirty workboots. This incredible heating simply plugs in and that's it! Job Done! You can even do just one room or the whole house!

Children put Easter in the picture

Practice manager Jackie Murphy helps to promote the Easter picture competition

A CANNOCK opticians has helped school children get into the Easter spirit by organising a picture competition.

Chase Eyecare, which has a branch in High Green, Cannock and Market Street, Hednesford, has been running the competition with primary schools throughout the district.

There are first, second and third prizes up for grabs with the winners each receiving an Easter egg. Cannock branch practice Jackie Murphy said: "I know the children have been really enthusiastic and have been coming up with great Easter themed pictures. We will be picking the winning entries and delivering the Easter eggs to the lucky winners."

Chase Eyecare encourages parents to bring their children in for eye examinations as one in four children has an undetected vision problem which can often be difficult to detect. The practice is just one of a few practices in Staffordshire which offers free diabetes eye screening examinations and glasses for NHS patients.

Call the Cannock branch on 01543 570313 or 01543 422198 for Hednesford.

A&E to reopen at night if trust targets are met

HEALTH chiefs have ruled Stafford Hospital's Accident & Emergency department will re-open at night from June if its targets are met.

A&E closed between 10pmand 8am in December as patient safety could not be guaranteed because of staff shortages. health trust bosses have now agreed to reopen the department throughout the night.

But they say it is dependent on the trust continuing to perform well, including reaching a target of 95 per cent of patients admitted at A&E being treated or discharged within four hours.

Figures show that in weeks two, three and four of March, the trust hit the target with 97, 95 and 99 per cent of patients in A&E respectively being dealt with within the required time. The target was breached during January, February and the first week of March.

Hospital managers now intend to re-open A&E between 10pm and 8am from June 11 as long as criteria on A&E is met and the required number of middle grade doctors are recruited.

Deadline

The trust has set a deadline of April 26 to achieve those targets. The Primary Care Trust and members of the GP Commissioning Group are expected to make a final decision by May 8.

Maggie Oldham, chief operating officer at Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust, said: "We have made good progress and this is reflected in improved performance against national A&E indicators and staff recruitment.

"However, there are seven areas which require further work before reopening. These include sustaining the numbers of senior emergency medicine doctors and middle grade doctors, recruiting to the remaining vacancies for nurses and consistently achieving the four hour target for at least 95 per cent of patients."

Reopening of cells to mark grim anniversary

A GRIM day in Lichfield's history will be marked with the reopening of the Guildhall prison cells next week.

Wednesday, April 11 marks exactly 400 years since Edward Wightman, one of the cells' most renowned occupants, was the last man in England to be burned at the stake for heresy.

Wightman, a well-respected community leader and ale-house keeper, met his fate next to St Mary's Church on Market Square in 1612.

King James I, who ordered Wightman's execution, later decided heretics should waste away in prison.

To mark the date a civic ceremony will take place in Market Square. A wreath will be laid and prayers said to commemorate Wightman.

The new prison cell displays will be open from 12.30-4pm, while visitors can find out about Wightman's story through drama shows at Lichfield Heritage Centre at 1.30pm, 2.30pm and 3.30pm.

Tickets are £3. Book in person at the Heritage Centre or on 01543 256611.

Two further special performances will take place at 7pm and 8pm including a glass of wine and a private cells visit, for £5 a ticket.

Theatre girl's homecoming

Lucy Westnidge of Cannock, who is the company manager with The King and I

A THEATRE company manager came home to visit her parents during the Wolverhampton run of The King and I tour.

Cannock-born Lucy Westnidge has the personal numbers of Lee Mead, Les Dennis and Warwick Davis on her mobile phone but it took her parents years to accept their daughter's career. Lucy had won the title of Young Engineer of Great Britain for her invention of a watering can on wheels. But she had always wanted to work backstage since appearing on TV's Blue Peter.

Parents Colin and Joy were not impressed when later she gave up her A-levels at Blake High in Hednesford after secretly getting a place at Birmingham School of Speech and Drama to study stage management.

Lucy's company, Music And Lyrics, tours the UK but last week she dropped in on her family home in Pye Green Road.

Spreading message of crime initiative

A CHARITY is enlisting the help of the Easter Bunny as part of a crime-fighting initiative in Rugeley this weekend.

Crimestoppers will be at Brewery Street Market on Saturday (April 7), where a giant fluffy rabbit will be handing out presents to children and raising funds for crime prevention projects in the town.

Traders in Brewery Street are supporting the initiative, with craft demonstrations taking place to help spread the Crimestoppers message.

Crimestoppers regional manager Pauline Hadley said: "This is the first time we have sought the help of the Easter Bunny.

"We receive more than 2,500 pieces of information about criminals in Staffordshire every year thanks to community-minded members of the public.

"More than 40 per cent of all information being passed to Crimestoppers comes in via the anonymous online form on the charity's website.

Visit www.crimestoppers-uk.org or call 0800 555 111 anonymously to get in touch with Crimestoppers.

Thunder to get eye op

RESIDENTS, community groups and businesses have helped to raise enough cash for a dog to have a sight-saving operation.

Thunder, a two-year-old husky, was diagnosed with cataracts after being rescued from bad living conditions by his owner Rob Hyden, of Rugeley.

Ruth Dewis and Pauline Roberts, who re-home dogs across the Chase, joined in an appeal to help Mr Hyden raise the necessary cash.

Donations came flooding in, including from Specsavers and a line dancing group in Cannock and the amount raised of £3,740 means he can have his operation on April 18.

Choir performs

THE CANNOCK Chase Orpheus Male Choir are performing in Darlaston next weekend. They will be singing at Darlaston Methodist Church, in Slater Street, Wednesbury, from 7pm on Saturday (April 14).

Warning is issued on grass fires

FIREFIGHTERS in Staffordshire have launched their annual campaign to highlight the dangers of deliberately starting grass fires.

Staffordshire Fire and Rescue Service tends to see an increase in grass fires over the school holidays, which is often due to children and teenagers starting fires deliberately. They revealed there were more than 1,000 grass fires in the county last year.

Of those, nearly half were started during the school holidays, while 86 per cent of all grass fires were deliberately started.

Cannock suffered 179 grass fires last year, the majority of which took place during the Easter and summer holidays, with 112 of them on Hednesford Hills.

This year, firefighters will visit schools to promote the 'Flames Aren't Games. Grass Fires Kill' message.

Station manager Neil Pedersen said: "Young people who start grass fires seem oblivious to the fact they are endangering their own lives as well as firefighters.

"For every call we receive about a grass fire there could be a person somewhere else desperately trying to get out of a burning building."

Coffee time at trust HQ

NATURE lovers can enjoy a cuppa wile supporting a wildlife charity at the same time next week.

Staffordshire Wildlife Trust is staging a coffee morning on Friday, April 13 from 10am – noon at its Wolseley Centre base.

There will be stalls selling cupcakes, jams and plants as well as a wide range of secondhand books.

Organiser Laura Cooper said: "Supporting our coffee morning is one way you can help local wildlife and conservation across the county."

Admission is £1, which includes a drink. Proceeds go towards the trust's work.

Councillors to stage surgery

BURNTWOOD's Labour councillors will be holding their regular advice surgeries this Saturday, April 7.

Councillors representing, Boney Hay, Central, Chase Terrace, Chasetown and Summerfield Wards will be at the library in Sankey's Corner from 10am – 11am.

Village businesses to youth club's rescue

Youth leaders with Matt Williams, Penkridge market manager, PCSO Andy Poxon, and Anne Geoghegan of Penkridge Business Association

BUSINESSES in Penkridge have clubbed together to help support their local youth club, by donating money towards much-needed new equipment.

Penkridge Youth Club has been running for nearly three years and when PCSO Andy Poxon realised how out-of-date the equipment was, he asked local businesses for their help.

Penkridge Markets, the Round Table and the village's Business Association all donated cash towards the cause.

PCSO Poxon said: "Due to the generous donations. the club has been able to buy a whole range of new equipment including an X-Box with kinect controller, some new Wii games and extra controllers, ping pong balls and a table football game."

Quizzes

The Youth Club is run as part of St Michael and All Angels church community outreach programme and offers activities ranging from film and theme nights, quizzes, arts and crafts, computer games, air hockey table and table tennis. It is aimed at children aged from nine-to16 and is open on a Thursday evening from 6.30-8.30pm in the church hall in Market Street.

Youth leader Kate Batley said: "We have been running for nearly three years now and as a team we are constantly looking at how we can improve the facility that we provide for the young people of Penkridge.

"The money donated will go a long way towards that improvement.

"We hope to buy more equipment for outdoor activities in the near future. Without these donations none of what we have achieved this far would have been possible."

Murder suspect 'may be holed up close to home'

DETECTIVES hunting fugitive John Anslow say he may be being harboured in the West Midlands. Anslow is suspected of murdering a Chasetown businessman Richard Deakin.

Anslow was sprung from a prison van by armed men more than two months ago. A £10,000 reward is on offer for information leading to Anslow's arrest and return to prison.

Fugitive John Anslow

Victim Richard Deakin

Initial reports suggesting the suspect was in Spain are being investigated. It has also been revealed he could be holed-up somewhere closer to his Tipton home.

Det Supt Wayne Jones said: "We continue to keep an open mind about whether he is in this country or abroad and are liaising with the relevant authorities. In total, we've had around 100 calls into the incident room.

Sightings

"These have offered information that Anslow may be in various places in the UK, including the West Midlands, or abroad, such as Spain. Some of these calls have included possible sightings – none of which, so far, have been confirmed."

Anslow is accused of killing father-of-two Mr Deakin, who ran a Walsall skip hire firm. He was shot dead at his Meadway Street home in July 2010.

Four other men from Wolverhampton have also been charged with murder.

Anyone with information should call police on 01785 232503.

Services to mark Easter

SEVERAL Easter service are taking place at a Burntwood church over the next few days. St Anne's Church, in High Street, Chasetown, kicks off its Easter schedule with a Maundy Thursday service tonight (Thursday 5) at 7.30pm.

On Good Friday a Walk of Witness meeting takes place at 10am, followed by an afternoon of prayer from midday to 3pm and a quiet reflective service at 7.30pm.

Two services take place on Easter Sunday, starting at 10.15am and 6pm.

Irene Rabone, of the Bridge House restaurant in Penkridge, which will be giving out prizes of small chocolate eggs over Easter weekend

Pub hosts a weekend fundraiser

A PENKRIDGE hotel and restaurant will be raising money for the village church when it hosts a special Easter weekend.

The Bridgehouse, at Stonecross, is raising money for the village church, St Michael and All Angels.

From Good Friday until Easter Sunday the venue is holding a raffle with the winner to receive an exclusive chocolate Easter hamper.

All the proceeds of the fundraising weekend will go towards church funds. During the weekend every child who orders a main course on the menu will also receive a free Easter egg.

Bridgehouse owner Raj Dhanda said: "As it is Easter we thought it would be lovely to raise money for the church.

"Easter is such a wonderful family occasion and we want to hand out free Easter eggs to children throughout the weekend. We will make the draw for the raffle on the evening of Easter Sunday. I hope people will come along and support us."

Raj and his wife Lomi took over the 80-seater Bridgehouse last year. It also hosts a fish and chip supper evening on the last Thursday of every month.

THE BEST OF PETER RHODES

OUR changing language. The sponsors of the Walking With the Wounded event announce that the walkers have set themselves the challenge "to successfully summit Mount Everest." Or, as we used to say, climb it.

❑❑❑❑❑❑❑

A READER reports hearing a spokesperson defending the rise in stamp prices to 60p on the grounds that "until a few months ago the Royal Mail had been cash-negative."

❑❑❑❑❑❑❑

SERIOUSLY, did you ever imagine you'd be rich enough to buy first-class stamps at 12 shillings each?

❑❑❑❑❑❑❑

WHILE in Suffolk we stayed at a fine old-fashioned pub, one of those rare hostelries where they still welcome man's best friend. A huffy mother wanted to know why dogs were allowed in the bar but not children and was told that it was simply an old tradition. The honest answer, of course, is that dogs are clean, quiet, well behaved and everybody loves them. Kids, on the other hand . . .

❑❑❑❑❑❑❑

I REPORTED recently on the lad issued with a petrol-driven leaf blower in order that he could blow leaves up the street for the wind to blow them down the street. A similar infernal device was in use on the sea front at Southwold, being used in the equally pointless task of blowing sand off the prom while shattering the morning peace. Whatever happed to brooms?

❑❑❑❑❑❑❑

OR SINK plugs, for that matter. There was probably no more efficient, reliable and cheap device than the old rubber sink plug on a chain. Plugs did exactly what their name suggests. They plugged the plughole. Sadly, they are being replaced by those new-fangled chrome-plunger devices which neither keep the water in the sink when you want to fill it nor let the water out properly when you want to drain it. Let us turn the clocks back. The Campaign for Real Plugs begins (and very probably ends) here.

❑❑❑❑❑❑❑

ONE of the blights on our countryside is the array of roadside billboards mounted on trailers parked in fields close to our major roads. They are presumably legal and doubtless put a few quid in the back pockets of farmers while providing publicity for festival organisers and other advertisers. But what an eyesore they are. I was surprised to see one billboard, beside the A14 in Warwickshire, taken by a huge advert for the Royal Air Force Reserves and paid for by the Ministry of Defence - in other words by you and me. Our armed forces are supposed to defend this nation, not despoil it.

❑❑❑❑❑❑❑

A NEIGHBOUR brought us half-a-dozen tiny eggs, laid by her free-range bantams which have been grazing on the new spring grass. Wow. I had forgotten that eggs were actually supposed to taste of something. I could have eaten a dozen.

❑❑❑❑❑❑❑

ON SECOND thoughts, maybe not a dozen. Even tasty eggs are best digested in moderation. As any solicitor will tell you, eggs may not be legal but they are binding.

Fundraiser just the ticket for hospital

AN AWARD-winning Indian restaurant in Cannock has raised £232 from a special week in aid of Birmingham Children's Hospital.

The Dilshad staged the charity week from March 26 to April 1, selling raffle tickets and offering a first prize of a three-course meal for two and a bottle of wine.

Dilshad owner Tony Uddin was inspired to raise money for the hospital after he met Nativity! star Ben Wilby as the child actor celebrated his 10th birthday at the restaurant.

Ben received a lifesaving nine hour operation at Birmingham Children's Hospital to relieve pressure on his brain when he was just two after being treated for cranial synostosis.

Cannock councillor Christine Mitchell, who is also a regular at The Dilshad in Cannock Road, Chadsmoor, made the draw this week. Sally Arnold, from Broad Lane, Essington was the lucky winner. The fundraising week tied in with Birmingham Children's Hospital's 150th birthday celebrations taking place this year.

Tony said: "Thanks to everyone who supported the event and purchased a ticket. We raised £116 during the week and The Dilshad has matched the amount raised bringing it to £232 in total.

"Having met Ben who is such an inspirational young boy we wanted to play our part in helping to raise some money for Birmingham Children's Hospital which is such a worthwhile cause."

Ben, of Bishop Close, played the part of Bob in the hit 2009 film co-starring Martin Freeman and Alan Carr and reprises the role in the sequel to be released in November.

He has also starred in countless adverts and is a regular on ITV's This Morning.

Postman delivers snub in row over footpaths

RESIDENTS on a Penkridge estate have had no mail delivered for the past four weeks following a wrangle over the poor state of pavements.

Royal Mail bosses suspended deliveries to four roads after a postman tripped on an uneven footpath on March 5 and suffered a serious injury.

Residents have had to travel seven miles to the Royal Mail depot in Stafford to pick up their letters.

The post has been stopped to Elm Walk, Lime Walk, Grange Road, and part of Wolverhampton Road.

Staffordshire County Council, which is in charge of most paths within the county border, says the pavements on the Grange estate are the responsibility of residents as part of their contract with housebuilders Wimpey, which constructed the homes.

Debbie Butler, of Grange Road, described the problem as "a nightmare" and said some of the residents were without post for a week before they realised what was going on.

Talks

Deliveries to some homes returned last Friday (March 30) but others were still without mail at the beginning of this week.

Residents were due to hold talks to discuss what action to take next.

Royal Mail spokesman Val Bodden said the decision to suspend deliveries was "a last resort".

She said: "We will not compromise on the safety of our colleagues.

"We have already apologised to customers and issued letters to the affected addresses explaining our position."

She added Royal Mail was keen to resume deliveries to the estate as soon as improvements were made to the pavements.

New suite fits the bill for leisure customers

FITNESS fans have been signing up to a new facility at Cannock Chase Leisure Centre which has now attracted 1,600 members.

The centre's Profiles Health and Fitness suite opened in February and has helped attract new visitors to the Stafford Road venue.

More than 17,000 people visited the centre between January and March, a rise of 5,000 on the same period last year.

The new health and fitness equipment at the suite has been funded by Wigan Leisure and Culture Trust (WLCT), the charitable trust which officially took over management of leisure and culture services on behalf of Cannock Chase Council on April 1. The partnership will deliver more than £2m of services over the 10-year contract.

The council's corporate director Tony McGovern said: "I'm delighted that the new fitness centre is proving such a hit."

The leisure centre is undergoing a major refurbishment with a 25-metre swimming pool and new spectator gallery set to be among the new additions.

Parking fees for staff are scrapped

STAFF will not be charged for parking at Cannock Chase Council workplace car parks after proposals to introduce fees were scrapped.

Under plans drawn up by the previous Liberal Democrat administration workers were facing a £130 annual fee. However council leader George Adamson confirmed this week that the move had been ditched and parking would remain free for the council's 650 employees.

Traders accused the ruling Labour group of "double standards" after price rises for non-council staff came into effect at car parks across the district.

Unfair

As of April 1 motorists are being forced to fork out more, with rises of up to 14 per cent.

But Councillor Adamson said today: "There is a staff pay freeze in place and it seemed unfair to charge workers to park when that is the case.

"If we hadn't increased car parking charges elsewhere we would have had to increase council tax by two per cent, which no one wants."

Victim has jaw broken

Police are appealing for witnesses following the attack on Sunday, March 18. The 21-year-old victim was approached from behind and attacked as he walked from Stafford Road through Cannock Park, near Chase Leisure Centre, between 9.30pm and 10pm.

He received hospital treatment before being released.

The offenders were male and at least one of them was wearing white trainers. They spoke with local accents.

Anyone with information is asked to ring DC Victoria Wilde on 01785 234205 or Staffordshire Police on 101.

Flower club talk

CHERRY picking from the nation's favourites will be the subject of a talk to Penkridge Flower Club. Ruth Rees will present the demonstration on Monday, April 16 from 7.30pm at the Peace Memorial Hall, Pinfold Lane. Cost to visitors is £5.50 including light refreshments.

Treasure trail at trust HQ

YOUNGSTERS can go on a treasure trail as part of a four-day Easter eggstravaganza at Staffordshire Wildlife Trust.

The Trust's Wolseley Bridge HQ is running the treasure hunt from Good Friday, April 6 to Easter Monday, April 9, from 10am to 4pm each day. Maps cost £1 each – with all proceeds going towards the Trust's work. Participants can claim a chocolate prize at the end.

The trust is also staging an outdoor tent sale over the Bank Holiday weekend. A range of tents and camping equipment will be on display on the grassed area at the Wolseley Centre from 11am – 5pm.

On Easter Sunday at 7am, the Reverend Mark Davys of St Michael and All Angels Church in Colwich will lead an outdoor service around the grounds.

Fundraising assistant Sam Pachner said: "At our Easter Eggstravaganza there will be something for everyone. Visitors will have the chance to explore our beautiful grounds and look around the outdoor tent sale, and children will love the treasure hunt."

For more information on the Easter Eggstravaganza, call 01889 880100.

Cashpoint theft alert

HUNDREDS of pounds were stolen from the bank accounts of customers using a cashpoint at a Cannock supermarket.

Three people had between £100 and £1,000 taken from their accounts after using the cashpoint at Morrisons in Cannock.

School worker Jayne Mercer, aged 52, of Cannock, noticed £600 had gone from her account after using the machine in Mill Street.

"When I realised the money was missing I rang my bank straightaway," she said.

Staffordshire Police spokesman Peter Bate said: "These matters have been referred to the relevant banks for investigation."

Rock Dogs date

MODERN indie rock band The Rock Dogs are performing at the Winding Wheel, Heath Hayes, this weekend. The free concert starts at 9pm on Saturday, April 7 and will feature covers from the likes of Kings of Leon, Kasabian, The Kinks, Snow Patrol and Kaiser Chiefs.

Volunteers in tidy-up at 'Bloody Steps' area

The Christian Victory Centre youth team Picture: Margaret Beardsmore

VOLUNTEERS got stuck in last weekend as they carried out a clean-up by a Rugeley canal.

The Waterside Action Team Rugeley, a community group led by the Inland Waterways Association, was joined by the youth group from the Victory Christian Centre for Sunday's clean-up at the Bloody Steps area of Brindley Bank on the Trent & Mersey Canal.

Inland Waterways has submitted a bid for money from the Community Paths Initiative to help improve the public footpath leading to the 'Bloody Steps' from Wolseley Road. This path will form part of a two-and-a-half mile circular walk around the canal which will be named the Brindley Trail in honour of James Brindley, the canal's chief engineer.

Litter

Work party co-ordinator Margaret Beardsmore said: "The young volunteers made a start clearing years of accumulated undergrowth, weeds and litter and after the morning much progress had been made.

"Other volunteers worked hard to uncover the old tramway which is by the aqueduct, renovated a bench across the canal, and generally tidied the area up.

Further work parties will be arranged in the near future but anyone going to have a look at the area will already notice the difference."

The Bloody Steps were so-called after the death of Christina Collins in 1839.

Setting out stall to ensure popular market's variety

Penkridge Market is as busy and popular as ever

Margaret and Pete Watton – hardware

WITH 120 stallholders and more than 4,000 customers on a good day, there is no doubting the popularity of Penkridge Market.

Having first began as a cattle market, the retail operation began back in 1978 but it seems the market is still going from strength to strength.

One trader, Phil Rose, is a former Penkridge resident who moved away, but still travels back from Matlock, Derbyshire, each week to ply his trade. "It's a long way, but it's worth it," he said from his cosmetics stall.

With Saturday and Wednesdays in full swing, Penkridge market kicks off its Bank Holiday Monday markets on Easter Monday (April 9). Market manager Matt Williams is also keen to give out space on non-market days for groups and organisations.

His mother Liz, of owners Penkridge Markets, said what made the market so different, and popular, was its wide range of stalls, including the Wycherleys cheese stand. Operated by Tony Minshall, he sells specialist, artisan cheeses that he knows the public cannot buy elsewhere.

"The reason we've lasted so long is because of the variety," said Liz. Some traders also point to the familiarity and friendliness of the market, as well as its cleanliness. The large free car park is also a big draw.

Many traders have been there since the word go, and show no signs of giving up their pitch. Margaret and Pete Watton, both aged 70, of Brownhills, have had stints on the coastal market in west Wales, but have remained a fixture at Penkridge for the past 35 years. Pete's grandfather used to selling agricultural wares at the old cattle markets and he is continuing the family trend.

Relationship

"The market has been very good to me over the years," said Pete from his hardware and garden stall.

Greengrocer Graham Dugmore has held his pitch for more than 30 years. He said: "We have built up a good relationship with the customers over the years."

Jason Gisbourne has been working alongside his dad Paul on his gardening stall since leaving school. Paul himself has traded there since 1983 and hopes more generations can follow in his footsteps. "It's a marmite job," he said. "You either love it or you hate it, but you have to have that variety as it is good for the future and vitality of the market."

Eileen and Ray Sharp enjoy selling fashions and handbags from their stall on the indoor market. Roy, aged 67, of Bloxwich, said: "We enjoy what we do. We like buying the stock and enjoy selling it."

Penkridge Market is open all year round, from 9am to 3pm on a Wednesday and bank Holiday Monday and until 4pm on a Saturday. Bank Holiday markets will follow on May 7, June 4 and August 27. For more details on hiring out space on non-market days, call Matt Williams on 01785 714221.

Raiders take soldier's war medals as he attends wake

A SOLDIER from Great Wyrley has been left devastated after he had his war medals stolen while he attended a comrade's funeral.

Sergeant James Stanley, who has served in Afghanistan, returned from a wake to find medals from conflicts in Iraq and Cyprus missing. The former Great Wyrley High School pupil said he had wanted to pass the medals on to his son.

The break-in occurred while the 26-year-old, of Lilac Lane, had been attending a wake in Aston after his friend and fellow soldier Lance Bombardier Dean Rathbone, 24, died in an accident back home.

The burglars also stole several pieces of military camouflage uniform as well as his army boots and electrical goods, including his iPad. Thousands of pounds worth of jewellery belonging to his mother-in-law, and a Silver Ford Galaxy hire car, were also taken.

Uniform

Next month, Sgt Stanley, who belongs to 26th Regiment Royal Artillery The West Midland Gunners, is due to receive another medal in Birmingham city centre, to mark his time in Afghanistan.As things stand, he will not be able to wear his existing medals.

He said: "I am going on parade in a few weeks, it's just so annoying – I've been so wound up by it. You spend your time serving there, and losing lads, and this is what you get for it.

"My smart uniform was hanging up and they had just ripped them off it

"They had gone through my bag and taken all my desert kit and loads of army kit."

The soldier was given the Operation Telic medal for his time spent in Iraq, and the Operation TOSCA medal for the peacekeeping he carried out in Cyprus.

Two-year pay freeze on the cards for councillors

COUNCILLORS in Cannock were this week set to agree a two-year pay freeze.

An independent panel has recommended allowances paid to the district authority's 40 members should remain static until April 2014.

If the propsals was ratified at a full council meeting yesterday (Wednesday), they will each be eligible to claim a basic rate of £5,339 if the proposals are approved.

Special responsibility allowances was also set to be held at present levels, with payments ranging from £378 for the standards committee chairman to £18,150 for council leader George Adamson.

The Labour group leader volunteered to take a 10 per cent pay cut following a review and he was expected to continue on the reduced rate.

Finance bosses have budgeted for inflation-rate rises in allowances for each of the next two years.

Panel

The authority will save more than £9,000 next year and £17,000 in 2013/14 if the freeze should the propoal go ahead.

Travel expenses will be brought in line with those paid to officers in one change proposed by the independent panel.

Councillor Adamson said: "The panel is recommending exactly what I asked them to.

"At a time of other cuts it certainly isn't a time to increase councillors' allowances."

The independent panel's report, recommending a two-year freeze, states: "The panel took into account the views expressed by members in interviews and the current financial position in local government."

Walker's now a runner

Tony Walker – running the London Marathon for Compton Hospice

A TIMBER manager is putting in the hard yards as he prepares to take on his first London Marathon.

Tony Walker is hoping for an under five-hour finish when he lines up in the capital on April 22.

The 22-year-old, who works for a building merchant, is raising cash for Wolverhampton's Compton Hospice to reward them for the care they gave to his granddad George Williams. Mr Williams, who lived in Penkridge, died of cancer aged 84.

Tony hopes to raise £1,600 and to boost the fund, he is holding a charity night at Tillington Hall Hotel in Eccleshall Road, Stafford on April 7.

Boogie on Down for Compton will run from 7.30pm. Tickets are £10. Call Tony on 07533 468917.

Craft fair at church

A CRAFT fair takes place at a Hednesford church later this month. It is on Saturday (April 28) from 10.30am to 2pm at St Peter's Church Hall, Church Hill. Refreshments and lunches will be available. To book a table, at £5, call Carole Howard on 01543 423522.

Cut out the waffle and let me shop

CAN someone please tell me why is it that when you go shopping these days you are bombarded by questions from the checkout staff?

I went in on a Wednesday to buy just a few items and honestly, I had a headache when I came out.

First they ask have you brought any bags then if you would like some recycled ones or free ones.

Then they keep asking how you are and are you having a good day. What are you doing today, anything nice? How is the weather out there and are you going on holiday this year?

Then you have to have this thing about the price guarantee and saving money. All this takes time.

I went in for shopping and had to wait to get served longer because all the cashier does is waffle on and on and then has the nerve to say 'sorry to keep you waiting'. Well it's your fault we have been kept waiting.

Why can't we have a shopping day where you just get to the till and that's it, thanks and goodbye? Cut the chat and just serve us for goodness sake. Or is this management gone stupid?

Parties share desire to see town flourish

IT WAS great to see The Chronicle headlines highlighting some of the real benefits of Hednesford regeneration (March 29).

The desire to see the town flourish is shared across all parties I know and I have since we had the great news that the development was to the a reality set out a plan that I believe will capitalise fully on the this great opportunity.

● Build it with Local Business: Maximise the use of local businesses, labour and trainees on the project as it is developed.

● Local jobs for Local people: talk to the big employers that will come into the scheme, e.g. the superstore and discount store operators.

● The Aquarius – "Keep Dancing!" Conduct a full consultation with Hednesford residents on the replacement Community facility for the Aquarius including its long dancing history.

● Let's Make the Town look great: Ensuring the building designs leave a worthy legacy for the town.

● Keep The Whole Town Busy: Fully integrate the development with the rest of the town, Market Street, the park and all other shops and businesses.

● Let's Keep it Green: Aiming for high environmental standards in all the buildings, such as benchmarking against the BREAM building scheme.

I am certain all parties and the whole town would want to get behind these initiatives.

MP should support electorate's wishes

LESS than two years into austerity cuts we can afford to cut taxes for the rich, yet nothing has been done to reduce the costs of gas, electricity or fuel. Cameron is to outlaw the subletting of rented social housing but can open access to state-owned property to fund his political party.

The PM plans to introduce a minimum cost for alcoholic drinks for us all, while every £10 spent by MPs in the restaurants and bars inside Parliament is subsidised by £7.40p by the taxpayer. We expect our MP to support the wishes of his electorate, yet his goal for his Party is to destroy public sector workers access to unions.

We had all the same treatments under Margaret Thatcher. Will we ever learn?

HELEN OF HEDNESFORD

Praise for Sport Relief fundraisers

WE WOULD like to thank all of our customers at Sainsbury's Cannock for their support for Sport Relief. A total of £3,100 was raised.

We had several fundraising activities including a book sale and colleagues pedalled from John O'Groats to Land's End without even leaving the store and raised an amazing £987.

Thank you also to the staff of Nuffield Health Centre who not only helped with the pedalling but also supplied the exercise bike.

Members of staff from Sainsbury's, Cannock, also joined in with the pupils, the Mario brothers' and two of the 'Teletubbies' of Norton Canes High School, for the Sport relief Mile and a game of rounders.

Quick increase in price of fuel

LAST Thursday morning (March 29) my wife and I drove past Burntwood's two petrol filling stations. Morrisons were charging a reasonable (by today's standards) £1.37.9 per litre for unleaded, but Jet priced theirs at £1.43.9!

I thought a difference of 6p was a rip-off by Jet, but on passing the two stations again in the evening I saw that Jet had put their price up by a further 2p to £1.45.9 per litre – Morrisons was unchanged. Need I say more?

Thanks to all runners

I WOULD like to thank all the runners from across Cannock, Rugeley, Hednesford and Penkridge who participated in the Stafford Half Marathon.

It was a tremendous effort by all the Team Macmillan runners. By wearing the famous Macmillan green vest you can help change the lives of the two million people living with or beyond cancer in Britain.

Money raised will be used to fund Macmillan's vital cancer services.

Looking after rich at pensioners' expense

I AM writing following the Budget in which the Con/Lib Government looked after the rich at the expense of pensioners.

That the Conservative party should revert to its old habits as the 'nasty party' came as no great surprise. It was, however, shocking to see their coalition partners who still retain the word liberal in their party name meekly going along with the attack on pensioners living standards.

This at a time of rising household fuel costs and a seemingly endless increase in the cost of motor fuel is beneath contempt and extremely unjust.

Town's new £10,000 St John base unveiled

Chief executive officer of WMAS NHS Trust, Anthony Marsh with St John Ambulance Supt Mark Butler

A NEW £10,000 headquarters for St John Ambulance in Hednesford has officially opened.

The unveiling coincided with three quarters of a century of service.

The base, which will house up to 30 volunteers, is located in Market Street in Hednesford. It means other community groups involved with the ambulance service now have a local base to use rather than travelling elsewhere.

The base was officially opened on Wednesday night, March 28, and coincides with the Hednesford Division celebrating 75 years of service in the area. Divisional Superintendent Mark Butler, aged 36, has been involved with St John Ambulance for the last 20 years.

Volunteers

He said the Hednesford base would now allow training to take place locally and said it would house up to 30 volunteers at various times.

"We've never had an HQ in Hednesford," he said.

"There was nowhere to go before but now we have this 1,800 square foot base. It's about bringing First Aid training back into the community and means we can meet back in the town centre," he added. "It's also an area for the local groups to use."

The base has been in use since October. St John Ambulance teaches people First Aid, claiming to have taught around 800,000 last year alone.

The St John Ambulance Association was founded in 1877, in the United Kingdom, but now there are several national groups. St John Ambulance volunteers and employees attend thousands of events every year providing First Aid to the sick and injured.

THE latest in our series on Hednesford Town stars who went on to play league football looks at three neighbours who all enjoyed successful top-level careers.

MEMORY LANE

by Dave Shaw

There must have been something in the water in Greenheath Road back in the early 1900s.

Teddy Bowen, Harold Shaw and Alec Talbot, neighbours who all went to West Hill School together, joined Hednesford within a year of each other and would leave in 1923, going on to make almost 950 first team appearances for league clubs.

Few more consistent defenders have moved into league football from Hednesford than full-back Teddy Bowen. Teddy was born in Hednesford in 1903, spending his early years at West Hill under the inspiration of Mr Philip Foster, a sports master who over many years discovered and coached a whole host of future stars.

In August 1923 Teddy left Hednesford to join Aston Villa, following the same path trodden by his great friend Alec Talbot three months earlier.

In his 11 years at Villa Park Teddy had the remarkable record of playing for either the first team or the reserves every match-day during the whole of his time at the club.

Teddy played 191 First Division games for Villa before, in October 1934, he moved to Norwich City making 129 league appearances for the Canaries before retiring in 1938 after a spell with Torquay United.

Talbot himself was a key member of the Aston Villa side of the late 1920s and early 1930s, making 263 appearances for the club, many of them as captain.

Harold Shaw signed for Hednesford Town aged 15, in June 1920, making his debut against Coventry. Often wearing a number four shirt but playing a mainly defensive role, Harold was spotted by Wolves who snapped him up on his birthday in May 1923 along with winger Jack Harrington. A classy defender, Harold went on to make 249 appearances in just under seven years, captaining the side in the early years of the Major Buckley era.

The Major caused a storm though when he surprisingly transferred Harold to First Division Sunderland in February 1930 for £7,500, a record for the club at that time.

At Sunderland Harold would play in an FA Cup tie against Derby in 1933 which attracted Roker Park's record crowd of 75,118 and he stayed with the club until the outbreak of the Second World War.

He continued to play wartime football until an injury finished him in 1945 at the age of 40, before moving back to live in Hednesford with his family.

Lesson on the legal profession

CHASE TERRACE LADIES CLUB

DAVID Goodman OBE was the guest speaker. He had he honour bestowed on him by Her Majesty the Queen in November 2011 for "exceptional services to Staffordshire's judiciary".

David attended Buckingham Palace with his wife and two daughters. He explained how nerve-racking it was to meet the Queen and remembering the very strict protocol required. As a memento, everyone who received such an award was given a personalised DVD of the day, featuring their actual presentation and the reaction of their families.

As justices' clerk and director of legal services for Staffordshire, David is the principal legal adviser to the 500 magistrates in the county and leader of the three legal teams who advise on law, practice, procedure and sentencing.

His career began in 1967 as an office junior at Birmingham Magistrates Court. He qualified as a Barrister in 1983 at Gray's Inn and became Justices Clerk for Staffordshire in 2004 Born in Tipton, David has lived in Burntwood for many years.

David is an accomplished after-dinner speaker and the group was fascinated to find out more about the legal system and to hear some of his many anecdotes.

Refreshments were served and the raffle was won by Rosemarie.

Guests enjoy a visit from antique expert

Charles Hanson with president Rose Morgan and county chairman Denise Moreton

THREE SPIRES WI

TO PARAPHRASE: 'Didn't we have a lovely time, Charles Hanson came to Chasetown".

Almost 100 ladies were the guest of Chasetown Women's Institute when the TV auctioneer and antiques expert visited.

Rose Morgan, president and co-ordinator, opened proceedings with usual business and introduced County Chairman Denise Moreton.

Rose then officially introduced Charles Hanson, whose background included spells at Wintertons and Bonhams, before launching his own auction house at Derby. He told how he enjoyed Bargain Hunt and the road trips out evaluating collectables.

While refreshments were served, the ladies had chance to question him on some auction procedures and Rose was roped in as his assistant, while evaluating members' collectables.

Two competitions and the raffle brought this excellent group meeting to a close.

Quiz time for members

HAYES GREEN WI

THERE was an excellent attendance at the March meeting, with some members bringing along friends for the social evening.

President Sandy Hobbs began the formalities with "Jerusalem" and apologies.

Mrs Hobbs then gave an account of the county quiz evening. Hayes Green's two teams enjoyed taking part, and achieved reasonable scores.

Mrs Hobbs had prepared a quiz for this meeting with members divided into foure teams. The Afterthoughts team were worthy winners, followed by the Woodentops.

The ever-popular bring and buy sale was held during the refreshment break.

The competition "A song title collage " was won by Elaine and the raffle was won by Moira.

Forthcoming events include the annual jumble sale at Bourne Methodist Church Hall on April 14, from 9.30 to 11am.

Firm looking to recruit as it continues to grow

A RUGELEY business involved in the defence and aerospace markets is continuing to recruit as it grows.

Ultra Electronics PMES Ltd took on 70 new staff last year and now employs about 260 at its 50,000sq ft £5.5m premises at Towers Business Park in Wheelhouse Road.

The company is now advertising for 20 posts including a commercial manager, project co-ordinators and engineers in a number of categories.

Ultra Electronics PMES, part of the Ultra Electronics group, won a £23m contract last June to make remote controls for Royal Navy nuclear submarines.

Details of 15 of the vacancies are currently featured at www.ultra-pmes.com

StreetStadia rolled out

Friends of Hednesford Park and members of the public with Staffordshire Fire and Rescue Service Green Watch manager Russ Brown and twins Lewis and Tyrone Evans

A PORTABLE sports pitch being used to divert youngsters from setting grass fires has arrived at Hednesford Park.

Staffordshire fire chiefs have invested £3,000 on the StreetStadia pitch, which will be touring Cannock Chase for around a month.

It is hoped the arena, the size of a tennis court, will cut out anti-social behaviour. Latest figures revealed a 115 per cent increase in blazes in the open in the county over the past year.

Last Easter more than 100 fires were deliberately set and responding to those calls cost £63,000.

Councillor Frank Allen said: "Any initiative to reduce arson is welcome. But the fact the fire service has had to resort to this should sound warning bells .

"There don't seem to be enough activities for youths."

Lead thief caught 'with dirty hands'

A THIEF was caught stealing lead from the roofs of two Chadsmoor businesses, a court heard. Danny Gardiner took the lead from Morgan's Pet and & Garden Supplies and Morgan's Florists.

by Harry Gottschalk

He was spotted on CCTV taking £500 worth of lead from one roof, and £250 worth from the other on March 8 in Cannock Road.

The 22-year-old, of Benion Road, was also found in possession of cannabis and another unspecified amount of lead on arrest.

Prosecutor Giles Rowden told Cannock magistrates said Gardiner was found near the crime scene with "dirty hands."

He said: "He had greasy dirt on his hands and was found in possession of cannabis. He was also found with a quantity of lead from a non-specific area."

In defence, Stephen Rudge said the defendant should be given credit for pleading guilty.

Gardiner was given a 12-month community order, suspended for 12 months. He was also ordered to enter a six months drug rehabilitation programme.

Gardiner was ordered to pay £365 compensation, along with £85 in costs.

David Emery, the owner of Morgan's Pet and & Garden Supplies, said: "It's good that he's been convicted, but it's not going to help repair my roof.

"It cost £500 so that hasn't really scratched the surface."

Rising to the occasion

A MASTER baker used his loaf to teach hotel customers the art of breadmaking. The Hatherton Hotel, in Pinfold Lane, Penkridge, welcomed Robert Swift to give participants the chance to try their hand at bread making.

The Swift family has been baking for five generations and run courses for novice bakers at their bakery in Ludlow.

The evening taught volunteers how to make the perfect dough as well as four specialist loaves. They could then make their own to take home.

Projects given a boost with funding of £2.5m

DEVELOPMENT projects in Cannock are to be kickstarted with a funding boost totalling more than £2.5 million.

Two major schemes will benefit from Growing Places funding approved by the Greater Birmingham and Solihull Local Enterprise Partnership board.

The successful bids will help bring stalled infrastructure projects back to life, creating nearly 7,200 jobs.

In Cannock the Gallan Park development off the A5 in Bridgtown will receive £750,000. Phase one of the business and industrial park project has been completed.

The new funding will provide half the cost of £1.5m phase two with the other 50 per cent being sought from the Stoke-on-Trent and Staffordshire LEP.

The project involves building a 60-bed Travelodge, 9,000 sq ft of retail and the opening up of a further seven acres of land for re-development. It is estimated that £5m private sector investment will be leveraged and 100 jobs created.

The Mill Green project at Eastern Way, is to get £1.78m with 50 per cent being sought from Stoke-on-Trent and Staffordshire LEP.

The funding will enable extensive infrastructure and servicing works to be completed. There will be 18.8 acres of serviced development land and 70- construction jobs created.

The wider project will deliver a 19,500 sq m business park, plus a hotel, restaurant and a nursery.

Knockout night at bar

Scott Murray (left) his former opponent Darren Leddington and boxing promoter Ron Gray get ready for the Boxing Gala Dinner

FIGHT fans are in for a knockout night of entertainment as a leading Cannock venue gets set to host a top evening of amateur boxing.

The Premier Suite, at Bar Sport, in High Green, is the venue for its Boxing Gala Dinner from 7.30pm on April 26 with boxing clubs from all over the Midlands set to take part.

Bar Sport owner Scott Murray, a former amateur boxer, said: "We will be staging around 10 fights of all weight categories culminating in a heavyweight bout."

The black tie event, compered by Sky's Mike Goodall will also feature a five-course meal and comedy entertainment. Tickets are £45. Call 01543 572092 or email info@premier-suite.co.uk

Solve clues to win

Post office couple still put stamp on village

A COUPLE that run a post office from their home have vowed to continue putting their mark on their village.

When Eva and Barry Overton heard the price of stamps was to rocket, their hearts sank. However, the duo that run a post office from their home in Longdon, near Rugeley, are determined the village convenience won't close.

Eva says they are already thinking of how to bring in more money to the shop, which has been in Brook End for decades.

Recently it was revealed that the price of first-class stamp will go up from 46p to 60p from April 30. A second-class stamp will go up from 36p to 50p.

Eva says they have seen many changes over the 18 years they have had the shop.

"Among the services that have been taken away are the TV licence, giros, pre-paid envelopes, home care stamps for the elderly and airograms," said Eva, aged 60.

Benefits

"One of the biggest impacts on the post office was when the government took away the pension books and benefits.

"Then they let supermarkets and shops sell stamps. Now they are putting up the price of stamps but we just have to carry on as best we can. We are looking at other services such as opening up the window so estate agents can advertise with us and we also offer a dry cleaning service."

However, Barry says they have an ATM machine, which customers find useful. He said: "A lot of people say they prefer to come and use the machine at our counter rather than going to a cash machine.

"Also, we are a popular drop-off point for people posting ebay parcels as we are in a quiet village."

The couple and their two children Annika, 25, and Nigel, 20, travelled to Staffordshire from London in 1994 when Barry was made redundant. For a while they lived with Barry's brother in Burton-Upon-Trent while they looked for a house – and stumbled across Longdon Post Office.

"We were looking at houses in the village and when we got hungry we spotted the shop sold fresh sandwiches," Eva said. "We walked in with the intention of buying a ham sandwich and walked out with a house, shop and post office."

It hasn't always been a quiet life, as in the last 18 years they have had to face ruthless raiders twice.

The first was in 2003 when a gang of armed robbers used CS gas at the shop in Longdon. The men from Birmingham received jail sentences between five and 14 years. A few years ago, a man with a machete and a hand axe smashed the front window of the shop, but Barry managed to fight him back out.

Read the Bible TODAY

What can God do for you?

In our increasingly uncertain and unstable world and with society undergoing rapid social change, we all need and look for stability, certainty, security, peace and a promise of a better future. Only Almighty God can provide these fundamental features, which make life truly worth living.

Through the pages of the Bible, God outlines for us such a time. For out of the chaos of our own time, He will bring forth his world wide kingdom. If you would like to learn more about God's certain and better future, then now is the time to start reading the Bible.

Family celebration for diamond couple

Bessie and Ray Smith celebrate their Diamond Wedding

Bessie and Ray Smith on their wedding day

A DEVOTED couple have celebrated 60 years of wedded bliss. Raymond Smith, who lives at the Horse Fair care home in Rugeley, met his bride Bessie at a Birmingham dance hall.

They married at the United Reform Church in Erdington where they lived until moving to Walmley, Sutton Coldfield 50 years ago. They have two children Helen, now 59 and Philip, 51. Raymond, 84, and Bessie, 82, also have three grandsonsand two granddaughters. Raymond was a machine tool fitter at Wickman Scrivener in Erdington and Aston for most of his working life while Bessie worked at Barrows Stores, and later Rhodes Glass and China in Birmingham.

They celebrated their anniversary on Thursday, March 29, with a lunch for more than 50 family and friends at Penns Hall in Sutton Coldfield.

Town marks George's Day

RESIDENTS in Rugeley are to celebrate the country's patron saint.

A day of celebrations is planned in the town to mark St George's Day later this month.

A man dressed up as St George will ride a white horse through the town, while shopkeepers will decorate their frontages with bunting and English-themed regalia.

Children from town schools will also be getting involved by decorating shields which will be displayed in the town centre in the days running up to the main event on Monday, April 23.

The entrants will be added into the competition and St George will pick the winner, which will be announced at noon by the war memorial, in Anson Street.

In 1222 the Council of Oxford declared April 23 to be St George's Day and it was not until 1348 that St George became the Patron Saint of England.

Council chiefs happy at occupancy rate figures

Princess Diana at Landywood Cabinets during the opening of the Landywood Enterprise park in 1987

COUNCIL bosses say they are happy with the occupancy rate at industrial units in South Staffordshire.

Latest figures, which were put to a district council meeting on Tuesday, show that overall, just 15 per cent of units lie empty.

At South Staffordshire Business Park in Cheslyn Hay, just three of 15 units are empty, while all but two at Littleton Business Park in Huntington are occupied. Landywood Enterprise Park in Holly Lane, Great Wyrley, which was opened by the Princess of Wales in 1987, has just a three per cent vacancy rate.

Council bosses insisted that considering the economic climate they were happy with the figures.

Councillor Roy Wright, cabinet member for direct services, said: "We've got nearly 150 industrial units and nearly 90 per cent of them are now occupied, which is above our target.

"We're working closely with the local job clubs in the district to try and give new businesses the kick-start they need, especially in the current financial climate. The really good news is that we've got more units occupied now than we had this time last year."

Councillor Mike Boyle, independent councillor for Cheslyn Hay North and Saredon, added: "The main competition is from Cannock with the M6 Toll being close by. A lot of companies relocate to Cannock.

"The competition is intense at the moment – it's a difficult time for companies.

"I cannot see any incentive which central Government offers which the council are not doing."

Crackdown against lewd behaviour at beauty spot

POLICE have launched an operation to clamp down on dogging at Cannock Chase.

Covert police patrols and CCTV cameras will be deployed on the beauty spot following a rise in reports of lewd sexual behaviour at the attraction. The initiative, named Operation Muttley, has been formed to monitor and tackle people involved in inappropriate activity. Details of vehicles visiting the venue will be logged to allow police to gather evidence against individuals.

Senior officers warned anyone found to be committing a crime will be prosecuted.

Inspector Donna Gibbs, South Staffordshire local policing team commander, said: "In order to address concerns that have been raised, and to keep our communities safe and reassured, we are conducting high-visibility patrols right across the area, and are providing information to visitors at the locations identified.

Status

"We are seeking to both raise awareness of the problem and to deter any such inappropriate behaviour in the future in order to return the beauty spot to its former status, as a safe place for families to visit."

Insp Gibbs said there had been increased reports following improved weather.

"It isn't particularly nice for families or for people walking their dogs to find people engaging in this type of behaviour," she said.

Anyone with concerns should contact Staffordshire Police on 101.

Saddle up for Giant prize

Simon Jenkinson from Giant and Jo Oldfield, regional fundraising manager for Diabetes UK with a demo of the bike that could be won RIDERS are being urged to saddle up for a big bike ride on Cannock Chase – with a £349 cycle up for grabs.

Giant bikes are supporting the Diabetes UK Big Bike Ride at Cannock Chase on April 22 by giving a Sedona bike to the rider that raises the most sponsorship.

Runners-up will receive a Quick Fix Combo pack including a pump, saddlebag, tool and puncture kit.

All money raised from the event will go to Diabetes UK. There will be a choice of routes from 1.5 up to 15 miles, through the Chase. The ride is suitable for all ages and abilities and cycle hire is available for adults and children.

Jo Oldfield, of Diabetes UK, said: "We hope as many people as possible will register for the Big Bike Ride and help us raise funds for our essential work."

Registration is £5 per cyclist. To register, contact Diabetes UK on 01922 614500 or email Midlands@diabetes.org.uk

Birthday to remember as Lucy becomes zoo keeper

A CANNOCK girl had a birthday to remember when she became a zookeeper for the day.

Lucy Allen celebrated her 12th birthday by feeding giraffes and getting up close and personal with tapirs as part of Dudley Zoo's Little Zoo Keeper experience.

She was joined at the soo for her special day by her friend Jess Jones, also aged 12.

The youngsters, who were treated to the special day for Lucy's birthday said they "loved every minute". Lucy said: "The best part of the day included feeding and getting close to the tapirs and feeding the giraffes."

Caring

Little Zoo Keepers discover what goes on behind the scenes atthe award-winning 40-acre attraction.

They help staff with their daily duties including feeding, cleaning and caring for the collection – many of which are endangered species.

There is also a chance to catch up with the action in Lemur Wood and Wallaby Walkthrough before finding out more about the larger breeds. Other sections include penguins, reptiles and working on the farm.

Peter Suddock, chief executive at Dudley Zoological Gardens, said: "Lucy and Jess had a brilliant day.

"We introduced the Keeper for a Day for adults a few years ago and then brought in the Little Zoo Keeper days for children.

"They have proved so successful that we are fully booked for months ahead."

Champion Rock lends his support to golf week

RUGELEY pro Robert Rock is lending his support to Midlands Golf Week.

Rock who won the Abu Dhabi Championship wants anyone interested in trying the sport to take advantage of a wide range of free and discounted activities on offer during the week which takes place between Easter Monday through to the following Sunday(April 15).

Activities range from free taster sessions and coaching programmes to discounted rounds of golf or club memberships. Rock said: "Golf is a great sport to be enjoyed at all levels and by players of different ages and abilities."

For more information call 01543 256661.

Tributes paid to organiser of popular vintage show

TRIBUTES have been paid to one of the original organisers of an annual transport show which attracts hundreds of people each year.

Cliff Dean, one of the people who helped to set up the Chasewater Transport Show, died aged 70.

Cliff Dean, Chasewater Transport Show organiser

The annual Chasewater Transport Show has become a successful and popular outdoor transport show attracting over 6,000 visitors each year.

The show's main organiser Helen Borton paid tribute to her late friend and colleague.

Mrs Borton, aged 27, said Cliff, who spent a lot of his life working in the building trade, was thought of well by everyone in the Midlands steam community.

She said: "During the organisation of the event this year Cliff sadly and very suddenly passed away.

"Cliff, and his son Harry, who exhibited their miniature steam engine, have attended the Chasewater event every year since the first show in 2009.

"Cliff and Harry worked every year alongside the organisers during set up and clear up days, both of them helping to make the show the success it has now become."

"At the funeral it was standing room only, I have been to Stafford Crematorium before, but I have never seen it so busy."

Winner

The show organisers have made the decision to dedicate this year's show, held at Chasewater Country Park, to Cliff and have also had a trophy commissioned for the winner of 'Best Steam Engine' which will be named the 'Cliff Dean Trophy'.

Cliff, who lived in Bevan Lee Road, is survived by his son Harry, aged 17.

He died on February 21 and was laid to rest on March 5.

Now in its fourth year, the show will be taking place on April 15 between 11am and 4.30pm.

Interactive exhibition puts venue on the map

LICHFIELD residents have contributed hundreds of personal reflections for an interactive exhibition.

The Secret Map of Lichfield is the brainchild of writer and storyteller Stewart Derry, who has compiled the A6-sized photographs, poems, thoughts and artistic creations for the display at Erasmus Darwin House.

Mr Derry said: "Each space is a personal response to the idea of our secret selves, revealing to others the often invisible and hidden worlds of our everyday lives and loves."

Specialist

With the support of Arts Council England, Staffordshire County Council and Erasmus Darwin House, Mr Derry has been delivering specialist workshops with partners, community groups and the general public, providing outstanding opportunities for all to experience and participate in the arts.

Two activity sessions are being held in the museum next week, on Tuesday (April 10) and Friday (13) from 11am to 4pm to celebrate the exhibition.

People of all ages are welcome to attend.

Fabulous sounds

ALTERNATIVE Easter Sunday entertainment is on offer at a pub in Chadsmoor. The Fabulous Hubcaps, a 50s and 60s band that performs the likes of Bill Haley, Bobby Vee, Chuck Berry and Eddie Cochran, will be at The Nest, John Street, from 8.30pm. Admission is free.

Officer's 20-year reward

A STAFFORDSHIRE police officer has been awarded her 20-year service medal. Sergeant Tracey Carsley received her award from Chief Constable Mike Cunningham.

The 46-year-old began her police career in March 1991 in Cannock, later moving to the CID department. She has taken a number of roles in Cannock and Rugeley, including incident response.

Sgt Carsley became acting sergeant for the uniformed response team and is now response sergeant.

Asda got a room to hire, please?

Debbie Blair, Chris Hodgkiss, Lyn Morgan and Nicola Bevan, from Asda, Cannock, celebrate the new community room in the store, which non-profit organisations can use free of charge for their meetings

A CANNOCK supermarket is encouraging charity organisations and community groups to make use of its conference room.

Asda, in Avon Road, has space which can be used by the community free of charge and staff want people know it is available.

Debbie Blair, of Cannock, community life champion, said: "It's free of charge to use and we want to reach out to non-profit making groups and others like football clubs.

People like the Lions Club use it already, it's a great meeting place for people to use and we also have the cafeteria if people want to hold a coffee morning or a mother and toddler group.

"There's a TV, DVD player, a screen, a projector and it's all on the ground floor, so it is suitable for disabled access," she added.

To find out more, people can call the store on 01543 501300.

Jobs saved after buyout

ALL 44 jobs at a Black Country factory have been saved after it was bought out of administration by a Burntwood firm.

Unitech Industries have bought metal parts and components manufacturer AMI Blaymires in Lye near Stourbridge.

Unitech Industries is a leading supplier of stainless steel and aluminium equipment to the food, beverage and pharmaceutical industries with a 75,000 sq ft production site at Prospect Road.

The rescued company is now called Unitech Blaymires.

Delighted

It manufactures components for a variety of industries and lists companies such as JCB and Thyssen Krupp among its customer base.

John Whitfield, one of the joint administrators from Duff & Phelps, said: "We are delighted to have achieved a sale of the business as a going concern which has secured the jobs of the employees.

"The company has a history of strong relationships with its customers which has assisted us to continue to trade and was of significant interest to all interested parties.

"We wish the new owners and the employees every success in the future."

Wildlife artist heads up six-week course

ASPIRING artists can take their inspiration from the natural world when a new watercolour painting course starts at Staffordshire Wildlife Trust's Wolseley Bridge HQ.

Accomplished wildlife artist Sue Chatterton will show students how to paint from nature during the evening class, which begins on Thursday, April 19. The six-week course is aimed at beginners to intermediate artists, and a part of each session will be spent sketching or painting outdoors in the Wolseley Centre grounds.

It costs £60 with a portion of the proceeds going to support the trust's work. To book a place call 01889 880100.

Defibrillator launched

Penkridge parish council chairman Pet Hughes launches the AED in the office of Penkridge Cabs

FIFTEEN people attended a training course in how to use a life-saving machine in Penkridge.

The training course, in how to use an Automated External defibrillator (AED) took place at the Hotel Mercure in Pinfold Lane last Saturday (March 31).

The first public access AED unit has been installed at the office of Penkridge Cabs, in Crown Bridge, with parish council chairman Pet Hughes performing the opening ceremony. It comes after the parish council made a donation to the Penkridge First Responders following a campaign by Councillor Sean Flynn.

He said: "With prompt defibrillation and CPR the odds of survival from cardiac arrest increase dramatically and the survivor's quality of life increases accordingly."

The Monckton Recreation Centre has also ordered its own defibrillator and fundraising is taking place to enable more to be placed around the village.

The First Responders team is to run further free training courses on using the vital equipment – email parishcouncil@contracthire.net to book.

District delight at retail boost

COUNCIL leaders have expressed delight at a six-figure boost for Cannock, Rugeley and Hednesford's high streets. The £100,000 is a share of a £10m High Street Innovation Fund.

by Mark Mudie

The Government cash has been inspired by retail guru Mary Portas. It aims to encourage new start-up businesses and bring empty shops back into use.

Cannock Chase District Council will now enter talks with traders over how to spend the cash.

The authority had not anticipated success since towns in Staffordshire have been outperforming high streets just a few miles away.

In Cannock and Stafford, the vacancy rate is about 12 per cent.

Welcome

The West Midlands average is 16 per cent, according to figures by the Local Data Company.

The district is one of eight areas in the West Midlands to receive the funding and one of 100 nationwide. Cannock Chase Council's Head of Planning and Regeneration Bob Phillips, said: "This is very welcome, if unexpected, news.

"The council is already acting to improve the district's town centres, which has included the creation of a Town Centres Improvement Fund as part of the budget recently, which will see £300,000 spent on improving our town centres.

"This extra £100,000 will enable us to do even more.

"We will now be working with traders, landlords and our other partners in town centres to look at the best ways of using the funding."

Museum helpers sought

ENTHUSIASTIC volunteers are being sought to help out at a Lichfield museum. Erasmus Darwin House, a museum dedicated to the inventor, poet, scientist and one of Lichfield's most famous residents, is opening its doors next Saturday (April 14) from 1-3pm.

Current volunteers will be on hand to describe their experiences of working at the Beacon Street venue and the opportunities people can become involved with.

Anyone who cannot attend but would like to find out more should phone 01543 305260.

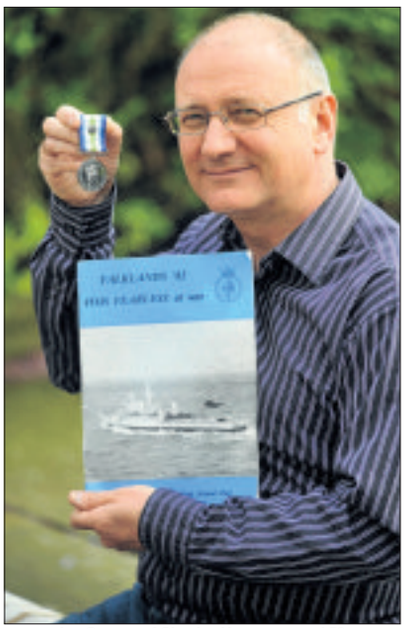
"We are all about you"



Ian Carvey, of Cheslyn Hay, now aged 50

Fearless crew member in Falklands memories

A FEARLESS Cheslyn Hay man has relived his time fighting for the Falkland islands – 30 years on since the conflict began.

Ian Carvey, now aged 50, remembers setting sail from Portsmouth on April 6, part of the largest amphibious operation since the D-Day landings.

"Only this time we were not merely hopping across the Channel, but travelling some 8,000 miles, or two week's full steaming, from Britain.

"We were young and full of bravado and until this time were quite blase about it all," he said.

"We were all told to muster in the junior rates' dining room. At this point the executive officer, Commander John Kelly, read out the Articles of War.

"Much of the wording had changed little since Nelson's time.

"It was at this point when words such as 'cowardice in the face of the enemy is punishable by death' that it suddenly hit home. The unforgiving South Atlantic sky and sea are both a dismal grey, adding to the sense of foreboding."

Ian remembers the time Argentinian pilots were circling above them, and the crew of HMS Fearless had just intercepted a radio message. "Go for Fearless this time!" was the command.

It is hard to imagine the thoughts which must have gone through the 20-year-old radio operator's mind.

Claxons

"The claxons then sounded, the 'air raid warning red' message came over the public address system and our Bofor guns started blasting away on the deck above us," he recalled.

"Knowing we were the specific target we all dived onto the deck and covered our heads with our arms and hands.

"At this our Chief Radio Supervisor, a Brummie called Dave Timmington, started charging round the office giving us all a kick, uttering those immortal words; 'if it was good enough for Nelson it's good enough for you, now get up!'

"And, as the fully trained men we were, we all got up and carried on with our work."

His story is a timely reminder that for many families, the Falklands War was not a minor battle in a far-off land, but a very real conflict which cost real lives and presented real dangers.

Another, Simon "Spike" Riley, who now works as a police officer in West Bromwich, was another 20-year-old radio operator who had joined the Royal Navy 18 months before Argentina's President General Leopoldo Galtieri invaded the remote British island.

At the time, few people in mainland Britain even knew where the islands were.

He said: "We were on our way back into Gibraltar when the news came over the World Service that the Argentinians had invaded the Falklands. We wondered why on earth they would invade an island in the Outer Hebrides."

Paignton town red to mark big day

Diamond wedding couple John and Sylvia Prosser

The couple are pictured on their big day in 1952

A BURNTWOOD couple are celebrating their diamond wedding anniversary. John and Sylvia Prosser, of Deal Avenue, met in 1949 at a youth club in Paignton, Devon.

Eighty-one-year-old John spent his youth in the south west and met his future wife during a night out when she was visiting his home town.

Sylvia, aged 80, is originally from Norton Canes and the former hospital orderly convinced John to make the move up to the Midlands when the couple tied the knot in 1952 at St John's Church, Norton Canes.

John spent some time in the RAF and he also worked in the gas industry before the couple retired and moved back to Paignton. But in 2008, they returned to the Midlands to spend more time with their family of three children, five grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

John says the two have had a blissful marriage.

Flats block bid unveiled

PLANS have been unveiled for a new block of flats in the heart of Chasetown.

Lichfield firm JE Dillon Properties wants to create 11 new flats in High Street. The work will involve utilising an existing building, as well as creating a new space at the rear of the property.

The existing building, which is two-stories high at 7 and 9 High Street, would have no change to the overall scale and would contain three one-bedroom properties and four two-bedroom flats.The new building would have four two-bedroom flats and the overall development would have space for 11 cars.

CT Planning Ltd, the agents working for the building firm, have prepared plans to show to planning chiefs at Lichfield District Council, who will decide whether to allow the development.

In the planning statement, CT Planning say the new build element will have no adverse impact on the existing street scene. It says people will be unable to see many changes when looking at the front of the building.

CT Planning adds one of the reasons the site has been chosen is because it is on a main transport route, surrounded by local amenities.

Says the statement: "The site is located with a local centre within easy walking distance of a wide range of services and facilities.

"It is also located close to a public transport route."

Potter about in steps of boy wizard Harry

THE MAKING of Harry Potter tour at the Warner Brothers' movie studios in north London takes visitors behind-the-scenes to see the actual sets, costumes and props used in the eight movies about the boy wizard.

This is not a theme park, despite the hefty £83 price tag on a family ticket, but is a day out that dedicated Potter fans will remember at what is in effect a museum of Harry Potter artifacts.

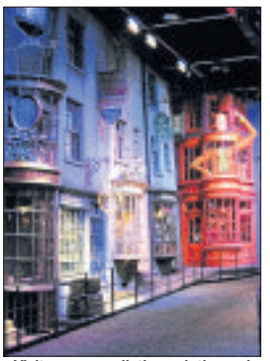
On the site of a former Rolls-Royce aircraft engine factory near Watford, in two massive sound stages co-incidently named J and K in an accidental homage to author JK Rowling, is the world's greatest collection of Potter memorabilia. This ranges from the iconic sets for Hogwarts Castle's Great Hall and the bizarre shops of Diagon Alley, to countless snitches, goblets, swords and paintings that seem crammed into every corner of these super-sized warehouses.

Pre-booked

The tour is already proving phenomenally popular. Tickets must be pre-booked online at the website www.wbstudiotour.co.uk or via the approved tour operators. Visitors are then given a specific tour time. Each party will be limited to 100 so fans get to see the displays close up.

The prices, £28 for adults and £21 for children (five to 15), have not put off the fans with April already set to be a sell-out with up to 5,000 visitors per day. The walking tour, mostly self-guided, takes three to four hours.

After introduction films, the screen lifts to reveal the huge gothic doors to the impressive Great Hall. Inside visitors can see grafitti carved by the Hogwarts 'pupils' on the huge wooden tables, character costumes and the house points bead system which is said to have caused a bead shortage when installed in the year 2000.



Visitors can walk through the real Diagon Alley film set on the Harry Potter tour at Warner Bros studio

Beyond the hall, visitors can peer inside Hagrid's Hut, the Weasley's kitchen complete with magic appliances, Dumbledore's office, the Gryffindor common room and boys' dormitory, including Harry's suprisingly tiny bed – apparently, as the actors grew older they were filmed so we couldn't see their feet hanging over the ends – and Professor Snape's potions classroom.

Everywhere the Potter fanatics can make gleeful discoveries, such as the Mirror of Erised, Goblet of Fire, the Philosopher's Stone and horcruxes which contained evil Voldemort's soul.

This area also shows how green screen technology made it appear Harry and co could ride their broomsticks and – here's the really great thing – you get to have a go and see yourself on screen soaring over Hogwarts and Tower Bridge. Unique souvenir photos are available, from £12 for one to £20 for the full set of four.

The most monumental displays are from the Ministry of Magic, including the massive Soviet-style 'Magic is Might' statue and the London Underground-like architecture from the ministry, plus Professor Umbridge's pink and gilt confection of an office.

Between the sound stages is the back lot where Privet Drive can be visited with the triple decker Knight Bus parked nearby beside Hagrid's motorbike and sidecar and the famous flying Ford Anglia. You can view the only section of the Hogwarts Bridge whilst sipping a sickly sweet Butterbeer.

In the next building an onscreen Warwick Davis shows how the special effects experts brought the fantastic beasts and monsters of the films to life in The Creature Shop, where Aragog the giant spider lurks beside werewolves, elves, goblins and an interactive Buckbeak the Hippogriff. Then its on to the atmospheric Diagon Alley and through the art department to a magnificent scale model of Hogwarts Castle built for the first film, Harry Potter and the Philosopher's Stone.

Souvenirs range from £3.95 for a lollipop to £495.95 for a replica set of Professor Dumbledore's robes in the massive gift shop.

Warner Bros Studio Tour London is at Leavesden near Junction 20 of the M25, easy to reach from the West Midlands via the M40, A41 and M1. There is free parking. There is a shuttle bus from Watford Junction rail station.

'Filth', fun and feminism too

WOLVERHAMPTON-raised writer Caitlin Moran penned one of the books of 2011 with her memoir-meets-manifesto How To Be A Woman, a work which has won popular and critical success in equal measure.

Now you can hear the Times columnist reading it herself on the new unabridged audiobook, which she admits was embarrassing to record because of the "filth" contained within.

Moran has an engaging voice to match her prose and her book is laugh-out-loud funny, uncompromising, sometimes poignant and packs a commonsense feminist agenda.

Now available for digital download, for around £10, it's like spending nearly nine hours in good company. See the website www.randomhouse.co.uk

In the latest paperback, Marshmallow Skye (Puffin, £6.99), it's the turn of identical twin Skye, desperate to emerge from the shadow of her cool and confident sister Summer. Skye finds herself involved in a ghost story. Fans will find this an entertaining page-turner and can have a go at making the featured recipes. LB

Out of the jungle and On Golden Pond for Stefanie

Stefanie Powers

Elizabeth Carling

HART To Hart star Stefanie Powers stars in the timeless and endearing On Golden Pond at The Lichfield Garrick next week.

Most recently seen in the jungle as one of the I'm A Celebrity . . . Get Me Out of Here contestants, she will be joined by Elizabeth Carling, of Goodnight Sweetheart fame and the veteran actor Richard Johnson for the play.

It begins on its run on Tuesday, April 10 and runs at the Castle Dyke venue until Saturday, April 14 at 7.30pm each night, with a Thursday and Saturday matinee at 2.30pm.

Directed by Michael Lunney, Middle Ground Theatre Company presents the story of Ethel and Norman Thayer, who are returning to their summer home on Golden Pond for the 48th year.

They are joined by their daughter and her fiancée, who leave their teenage son with Norman and Ethel while they travel to Europe.

A moving exploration of the relationship between the elderly couple, their daughter and their grandson follows. As the summer wanes, there is a realisation that time is against them. But perhaps there is another summer on Golden Pond still to enjoy…

The classic film starred Katharine Hepburn, Henry Fonda and Jane Fonda and won three Academy Awards.

Tickets cost from £22 and can be booked from www.lichfieldgarrick.com or by calling the Box Office on 01543 412121.

Get ready to Jedi

AT last Star Wars fans with a Kinect-enhanced Xbox 360 can wield a virtual lightsabre, use their hands to harness the power of the Force and even dance with their favourite characters.

The controller-free Kinect Star Wars will allow fans of the Star Wars saga to unleash their Jedi powers like never before. This includes podracing, combat using the Force and a galactic dance-off for the pleasure of Jabba the Hutt. You will experience that galaxy far far away in a completely new way.

Kinect Stars Wars has a pegi 12 rating, is published by Microsoft Studios, available at around £39.99.

Bilash and Grand in partnership

UPMARKET Wolverhampton restaurant The Bilash has joined forces with the city's Grand theatre to offer patrons a special theatre dinner menu.

The Michelin rated Asian eatery, opposite the Civic Centre on Cheapside, specialises in Bangladeshi and Indian dishes.

The Bilash offers a two-course pre-theatre dinner with coffee for £18.95. Theatregoers will be able to book their tickets and reserve a table in one transaction via the Lichfield Street venue's box office.

Exclusive

The partnership aims to offer a complete night out experience in the city centre.

Grand Theatre chief executive Peter Cutchie said: "Our actors and customers already regularly visit Bilash but this exclusive deal and way of booking makes the whole process more streamlined."

Bilash owner Mohammed Khan added: "It will be an exciting venture for both businesses."

Contact the box office on 01902 429212 or visit the Grand's website.

Two Time Polka – Fourth Time Round

CORK Cajuneers Two Time Polka have knocked out their fourth toe-tapping, foot-stomping offering in this 15 track CD that showcases their eclectic tastes and variety of musical talents perfectly.

Back for another round of American sounds are vocalist Aaron Dillon and probably the best mandolin player on the folk circuit Ray Barron. If you like folk with a twist this is the album you want and you get a chance to see them live at the Newhampton Inn Folk Club, Wolverhampton, on April 12 where you can get hold of a copy, or log onto the website www.custysmusic.com

Mary Black – Stories From the Steeples

It's been a long time coming but the consensus is that the latest album from the Irish songstress was well worth the wait. This album showcases her clear and distinctive voice. She has lost none of her ability to put her emotions into song.

The Staves – The Motherlode EP

You will have to go a long way to find sweeter, more harmonious voices than the Stavelly sisters Emily, Camilla and Jessica. The trio are at the Glee Club, Studio, Birmingham on April 29.

Best spring image can win garden centre prize

GARDEN centre customers can win a £50 voucher by submitting a picture of their favourite spring scene.

People are asked to bring in their snapshots for the spring gardening celebration at Wolseley Bridge Garden Centre, near Rugeley, from April 14 until April 29.

Garden Centre manager Ian Byrne said: "We're inviting keen and amateur photographers to bring in pictures of their favourite spring scene. We will then display all the images at the garden centre for people to see during our spring gardening event."

To enter, take in a printed copy of the photograph with your name, address and contact number on the back and complete an entry form. Entries need to be handed in by Sunday, April 22.

Record store day vinyl countdown

Chris McGranaghan, of Those Old Records in Rugeley

SCORES of music fans are expected at a Rugeley record shop on April 21. For the owner of Those Old Records, its is the vinyl countdown to National Record Store Day.

Chris McGranaghan says that on that particular day, queues of customers form outside his store at the Brewery Street Shopping Centre.

by Cathy Spencer

"I started selling records from my own collection and then seven years ago decided to buy the shop," he said.

"I love records because, unlike downloads, you can see it and feel it and the sound quality is much better. We have seen an increase in sales, especially with artists such as Adele insisting their records are put on vinyl."

The walls of Chris's shop are filled with records and photos of stars including Jimmy Hendrix and the Beatles. Among his most prized albums are The Misfits priced at £75 and the first Kraftwerk album at £50.

History

"We don't just rely on our local customers but sell a lot of things online, and we have had a lot of interest from overseas," said Chris.

"Our seven inch singles and EPs are the most collectable and when people buy an original they know they are getting a piece of history.

"Albums are usually 10 or 12 inch and recently I had a rare one which was 18 inches."

Chris has organised an event at the George IV Pub, Lichfield, next Saturday, April 14 to celebrate National Record Store Day. Among the artists performing will be folk artist Beau, who will be making his first live performance in 30 years as well as Stourbridge-based rockabilly act The Straight Aces.

The night will see an eclectic mix of tunes from Lichfield vinyl DJ Steve Yates and feature highly collectable records for sale from some of the UK's coolest independent labels.

Chris said: "The initial plan was a promotional night for national Record Store Day on April 21, and we ended up with this. Beau recorded with John Peel's Dandelion label way back and I loved those albums."

Chris said he was choosy about the records he had in his store as he wanted to encourage serious collectors.

"We have a range of music but the most popular is Iron Maiden followed by The Beatles," he said.

"Years ago people told me it was a mistake to open a record store but we are still here, and still going strong – it looks like vinyl is here to stay."

Lions' raffle fundraiser

RUGELEY Lions have sprung into action with their first major fundraising event of the year – its Easter raffle. Prizes of a large chocolate hamper and cuddly bunnies will be delivered directly to the winners with all proceeds going towards helping local and international causes. Wolseley Bridge Garden Centre has allowed the Lions club to sell tickets and the draw takes place on Easter Saturday (April 7) at 5pm.

Exotic and edible, the growing way forward

THE Edible Garden Show, which was held recently at Stoneleigh Park, Warwickshire, brought together a whole range of exhibitors dedicated to the keen gardener, smallholder and "Good Life" enthusiasts.

As people ask more questions about the sources and quality of their food as well as looking to save on their shopping bills and improve their diets, DANNY FARRAGHER looks at a show which is tapping into this movement to get back to nature

Broadcaster and botanist James Wong – passionate about increasing the variety of home-grown plants

It was all with the aim of helping people to be more self-sufficient and more aware of where their food comes from and the benefits of growing your own.

While the show was a family event with plenty for everyone to get involved with and enjoy a day out, there is a serious side to many of the exhibitors who are concerned about modern farming, food production practices and the future of food in this country and worldwide.

One of the exhibitors, Garden Organic, is running a project across the diverse communities of the Midlands to gather information, seeds and growing techniques about the wide variety of exotic edible plants which are grown on people's plots and allotments.

Brought

Plants which we would not normally associate with the British climate or even consider being able to grow here can be found on plots up and down the country .

The campaign is fronted by broadcaster and botanist James Wong, who is passionate about increasing the variety of plants and techniques for cultivating home grown food which have been brought to this country with migrants from all over the world, many of whom settled in the Midlands.

He said there are thousands of edible plants grown in this country yet books and organisations repeatedly keep directing people to the same 15 or so varieties.

"Take the kiwi fruit for instance," he said. "It's a hardy fruit that can be grown in extreme temperatures and not just in exotic locations. Then you look at a community in Cornwall which has grown tea and is now even selling it to India and China.

"We need to change people's views about what can be grown in this country. The ethnic communities have years of experience of growing a wider variety of plants from agricultural systems which are different to ours. Variety is important."

Garden Organic is gathering this information from plot holders and gardeners across the Midlands and is already building the Heritage Seed Library at its base in Ryton, Coventry.

Through community groups and organisations such as allotment societies and word of mouth it has sought to find out what the diverse ethnic groups from Europe, Africa and Asia who have settled across the Midlands and the Black Country have to offer. All this has the aim of increasing the variety of foods and seeds on offer, not just so everyone can have a more diverse diet but to safeguard the future of food production.

Chief Horticultural officer, Bob Sherman said: "We need to be seed stewards. The next generation is showing little interest so we need to preserve these seeds and techniques so they are not lost as the generation who pioneered their use dies out."

Blight

Mr Wong added: "If you look at the Irish potato famine, there was a whole country which relied on one crop and how that was devastated by blight, this is what can happen when you don't have a diversity of plants and seeds."

Connie Fisher is back on the box, pushing her abilities once again by taking a guest role in the latest edition of the Beeb's flagship medical drama. She plays Amanda, a dog-walker who's out with her friend David and their pooches. Everything seems normal — until the ground under their feet gives way, and they're trapped in an underground cave system. Sam is first on the scene, but seeing as she suffers from a fear of the dark, she probably isn't the best person to handle the situation. The problem is, when Dylan arrives, they end up bickering. Fingers crossed they can put their differences to one side long enough to get poor David and Amanda out of the hole they're in – literally.

THE ONE & ONLY DES O'CONNOR

ITV1, 7.30pm

Des O'Connor has now spent half a century in showbusiness, suffering a few lows, namely at Glasgow Empire on a Friday night after a few weeks in the business, and many dizzy highs, including his own ITV1 shows. At 80, Des could be taking things easier, but he's still entertaining the masses, namely in this show paying tribute to the singer, presenter and all-round entertainer. Comedians Matt Lucas, Rhod Gilbert and Paul O'Grady will all be worshipping at the O'Connor altar, along with Katherine Kelly, actor Robert Lindsay and presenter Melanie Sykes.

ROYAL ASCOT on LADIES DAY
Royal Ascot on Ladies Day is a great day at the races and an odds-on favourite fashion extravaganza.
Attended by the Queen, Ascot is the premier sporting and social event in the summer calendar and one of the world's most famous race meetings, where tradition, pageantry, fashion and style come together in a glorious setting.
Book this trip, perhaps for you and your Mum and you will see top class thoroughbreds and world-famous jockeys competing for the legendary Gold Cup – one of the most prestigious prizes in flat racing.
You will also experience Royal Ascot's unique focus on fashion and fun – where the elegance of the ladies' dress is matched only by the flair of their hats!
It promises thrilling action on the track, with top class thoroughbreds and world famous jockeys competing for some of the highest accolades in horseracing.

Spraying roses will protect them from a variety of diseases and get rid of aphids at the same time

Sowing the seeds for a colour boost

IF you have a fair space to fill in your flower border, don't forget this can be done economically with one or two packets of mixed hardy annual seeds.

Sown in soil in April that has been improved with a soil conditioner or Miracle-Gro Expand 'n Gro, you will soon see a plethora of tiny seedlings emerge.

Hardy annuals include many cottage garden plants including annual lavatera, cornflower, Californian poppy, coreopsis, clarkia, love-in-a-mist, tiny viola and linaria.

Together they will make a great summer display that is easy to grow.

If you want dwarf plants, perhaps for the front of the border, look for Thomson & Morgan's Fairy Mixed that includes only plants that will flower to a maximum height of 45cm (18in).

Quickly

See that all the plants that germinate have enough space in which to thrive. If your sowing has been too thick you can always dig out clumps and replant them.

Slugs and snails are a particular nuisance in spring when their voracious appetite can quickly ruin emerging shoots and new foliage from plants such as delphiniums, hostas, dahlias, sweet peas and tulips.

Knowing slugs move and feed at night many gardeners go out with a torch at dusk to pick up and destroy these nocturnal plant destroyers.

I prefer to thinly scatter a few SlugClear Ultra pellets around vulnerable plants. This blue works particularly well because it is effective for up to two weeks, even in showery weather. If you prefer not to have pellets on the soil surface you can always water the ground with a liquid slug killer such as SlugClear. It dissolves in water and distributed through a watering can, over and around decorative plants.

The metaldehyde control gets underground where it does a great job controlling slugs and snails hiding under the soil surface.

Energy

Roses and other flowering shrubs will be producing new leaves that may need protection from plant diseases such as mildew, rust and rose blackspot. If your roses were badly infected last year then it's a good idea to start treatment against rose blackspot early in the season.

A couple of treatments a fortnight apart with RoseClear Ultra Gun! will provide internal protection that will kill any spores of this disease that may have got into the new foliage from a carry-over from last year's growth. It will also kill any aphids.

Feed the foliage and roots of spring flowering bulbs such a daffodils and crocus to give them the energy needed to produce flower buds for next year.

This is especially important if you are growing bulbs in a grassed area where you may be tempted to trim off the foliage before they have finished their life cycle. A couple of feeds of Miracle-Gro All Purpose Soluble Plant Food a fortnight apart will ensure they are able to set new flower embryos

● Words and photographs supplied by John Clowes, of The Scotts Miracle-Gro Company

Hardy annuals like Californian poppies will provided a blaze of colour throughout the summer

Agents on shortlist as one of best in country

C Residential in Rugeley that has been shortlisted for Estate & letting Awards

A RUGELEY estate agents has been short-listed as one of the UK's best.

C residential has been named in top 10 in the 2012 West Midlands Region of the Estate & Letting Agent Awards, sponsored by zoopla.co.uk in association with HomeLet, Endsleigh, Expert Agent, LCA Recruitment & RICS.

Better known as the The ESTAS, the awards determine the best estate agents in the country through research carried out among customers who are asked a series of questions about the service they have received from their agent. A record 33,000 questionnaires were completed by customers during the competition.

Ceremony

Agents have been shortlisted in 17 regions around the country. The regional and national winners will be announced by Phil Spencer, the TV Property expert at the ninth annual ESTAS ceremony at the Hilton Park Lane on April 20. Angi Cooney , Director of C residential said "We are absolutely delighted to be shortlisted for the ESTAS 2012. It means so much to us as we know it's our customers who have put us on the list.

"We take our levels of customer service very seriously because we know clients have a choice. We have always been very proud of the personal service we provide and this is great way to demonstrate how good we really are."

Flint & Co continues to show good progress despite what have been difficult market conditions.

Flint owner Lesley Nzomo said "..things seem to be slowly improving with the public showing more optimism for the coming year and generally there is an indication of a re-newed enthusiasm towards moving house"...

The Cannock based estate agent has seen a steady growth of custom & this seems to relate to their focus on customer service which has certainly been well received by their landlords, tenants & sellers and this has been reflected by the many testimonials they have received.

Rob Fee of Cannock " Flint & Co found me a tenants for my 2 bedroom flat within a few days of marketing the property... Excellent service from start to finish..."

" Lesley at Flint & Co was wonderful... it was nice to deal with someone who was so genuine & who we can both trust..." Teresa Gosling of Hednesford

Lesley went on to say...

"..the combination of good old fashioned friendly customer service with todays technology has been something that our customers have warmed to.."

The Flint & Co website also continues to show a refreshing image for an estate agency that is going places.

The Estate & Letting Agent Awards, better known as the ESTAS, have announced their shortlist for 2012.

The ESTAS determines the best estate and lettings agents in the country through research carried out amongst customers who are asked a series of questions about the service they have received from their agent. A record 33,000 questionnaires were completed by customers during the competition.

Agents have been shortlisted in 17 regions around the country. The regional and national winners will be announced by Phil Spencer, the TV Property expert at the 9th annual ESTAS ceremony at the Hilton Park Lane on 20th April. Phil says "I think it says a great deal about company who's prepared to stand up and announce to customers and competitors that they believe in providing the best possible service and they're happy to prove it. These awards help agencies to focus on customer service levels and that's why so many sign up each year".

"The ESTAS competition is about recognising the hard work agents put in every day, week and month of the year" says Simon Brown who runs the national scheme. "So to be shortlisted is a great accolade for any agent".

Jason Dibble, Owner of Chase Independent said "Fantastic news for Chase Independent!!!! This is the second year we have entered the awards and are thrilled to be short listed yet again. We would like to say a big thankyou to all our clients for taking the time to show their support by voting. Thus clearly demonstrating that our customer service levels are outstanding; but above all "personal". We make it our business to provide an excellent, first class personal service to all.

Alex Chesterman, Founder & CEO of Zoopla.co.uk "We are really excited to support and be part of this key industry event. Our business objectives are precisely aligned with those of the ESTAS, which are to help agents across the UK maximise their efficiency. The ESTAS focus on providing valuable customer feedback and we focus on providing valuable marketing services, both with a view to ensuring that agents win more business."

The Hyundai i4C has won three awards after its Business Car Manager's accolade

Tourer takes the award for the best Estate Car

THE HYUNDAI i40 Tourer has held off well-established rivals to take the overall title of Best Estate Car in Business Car Manager's annual awards.

The awards identify the top company cars across nine distinct categories, and the Hyundai i40 was chosen as the winner above rivals such as the Ford Mondeo Estate, Volvo V50 DRIVe and Skoda Octavia Estate.

Tony Whitehorn, President and CEO Hyundai Motor UK, said: "To take the Best Estate Car award is a huge honour for us and it bears testimony to just how well the i40 Tourer performs. The lowest BiK tax rates coupled with ultra-efficient engines, premium levels of equipment and space and practicality make the i40 Tourer the ideal business estate car."

Ralph Morton, Editor of Business Car Manager, said: "We've brought together the very best and while they straddle a mix of classes and sectors, they're united by one attribute - they're all great additions to your business.

"Hyundai's continued growth in the UK has seen it launch several new top-quality cars for business users. The i40 Tourer is one such car that fully deserves this award as it provides a compelling alternative to the established rivals. If you also factor in low running costs and a 5 Year Triple Care warranty you get an estate car that's a cut above."

The Business Car Manager Best Estate Car Award is the third major honour that the i40 Tourer has won since its launch in September last year. It has already won the Best Estate Car title at the 2011 Scottish Car of the Year Awards along with the Golden Award at the 2011 EuroCarBody Conference.

With BiK rates starting at 13 per cent and insurance group ratings beginning at 12E, the Hyundai i40 Tourer 115PS Blue Drive model is capable of 65.7mpg on the combined cycle with emissions rated at just 113g/km – among the best figures in the segment.

New Yeti is packed with no cost extras

ŠKODA is launching a limited-edition version of its critically acclaimed Yeti compact SUV.

The Yeti Urban is based on the popular SE trim, but features up to £2,450 worth of extra equipment at no extra cost when compared to the SE.

The ŠKODA Yeti compact SUV has been a huge sale success since it was launched in 2009 – more than 8,800 have been registered in the UK. It won 12 independent product awards along the way. This new model is restricted to just 750 cars.

The Yeti Urban is the first model to be sold in the UK with DAB digital radio as standard. Additional design features include 17-inch black-and-chrome 'Matterhorn' alloys, wheel arch extensions, chrome side strips, silver door mirror caps, silver roof rails and stylisheye-catching roof stripes. Inside, customers have the choice of red or black sports seats and sunset glass in the rear.

The Yeti Urban is available in two-wheel-drive with manual transmission only, and comes with a choice of two engines. The petrol option is the frugal 1.2-litre TSI 105PS, which offers fuel economy of 44.1mpg (combined) and CO2 emissions of 149g/km. For diesel fans there's the popular 2.0-litre TDI CR 110PS DPF, which offers figures of 52.3mpg (combined) and CO2 emissions of 140g/km.

ŠKODA retailers have a number of accessories on offer which include stainless steel pedals (£80), sports exhaust trim (£50), and Nextbase Click 9 Lite Duo portable DVD player with twin 9-inch screens (£315). The ŠKODA Yeti Urban is on sale at £16,900 OTR for the petrol model and £18,330 OTR for the diesel.

The Navara has a leather steering wheel, the satnav, music centre and parking camera costs more

King of the road or one for the wilds – the Nissan Navara Tekna is a workhorse with bags of panache

Navara has saloon style with punch of a pick-up

PICK-UPS seem to be everywhere you look nowadays so rather than buck the trend I decided that I would fit in quite nicely in the new Nissan Navara Tekna.

By Neil Ward

Over the last few years the pick-up has become more and more sophisticated with improved levels of comfort, and road holding we would expect from a saloon car.

One of the leaders in this area has been Nissan and the new Tekna seems to have taken this to a whole new level.

On the inside you are greeted with leather seats with the fronts being both heated and electrically adjustable, the driver's seat has lumbar and height adjustment as well and it is pretty much impossible not to get it in to a position that is comfortable.

The rear seat is a bench seat that folds down on a 60/40 split and there are plenty of storage places underneath so there should never be a reason as to why you can't get everything in.

Test car

The steering wheel is leather and the dashboard and controls are instantly recognisable from the saloon car range. Also fitted to the test car is the satnav, music centre and rear parking camera which adds a whopping £1,650 to the price but personally I think it is worth every penny especially if you spend most of your time driving.

On the outside the Navara was finished in a fetching grey colour called slate which was practical as it managed to hide most of the dirt for a long period of time before it became too noticeable.

A friend has a black version and it shows every speck of dirt. The exterior is finished off with 17inch alloys with the polished side steps. Sadly these did not protrude quite far enough from the body, so when wearing work boots they were not easy to use.

The rear bed was fitted with a decent bedliner and matching tailgate so it can be used for practical carrying. Often I see these types of vehicle fitted with aluminium plate which turns it in to a skating rink or nothing at all which means the paint doesn't last long. This is an extra but at £332 is good value. The moveable tie-down points also mean that you can quickly secure loads.

On the move the 2.5 dci engine pulls strongly across the rev range and the ability to choose different modes from two or four wheel drive and high or low range gives added practicality. I managed a respectable 31mpg.

The manual gearbox is also easy to use and it was pretty easy to forget you were in a commercial vehicle. From a handling perspective the only give away was a slightly bouncy rear end which once any weight was added instantly disappeared. That said it was not intrusive and after a couple of hours it became unnoticeable.

Have Nissan built another winner with the Navara Tekna? I think they have and fans of the original will only find more to love about the new one.

I have only one criticism – towing weight. At 2.6 tons most people will not be bothered, but there are a group of us that tow over three tons and in this sector choice does become very limited which is a shame as the Navara would tick all the boxes for me with the extra capacity.

The Navara comes with moveable tie-down points

The French car-makerCitroen is to reduce prices

Price of greener motoring cut

CITROËn UK has announced the next phase in its Electric Vehicle (EV) sales development programme.

Key elements in this integrated plan for growth are; a significant OTR price reduction to just £21,216 after the Government's £5,000 Plug-in Car Grant; a monthly rental reduction to just £249; and a significant increase in the size and coverage of Citroën UK's EV Specialist Dealer Network.

Supporting C-Zero's new price positioning, Citroën has confirmed that it will extend its EV Specialist sales network from 11 to 21 dealers. The additional 10 sites will be located in UK cities not covered by the original Citroën EV network. Further expansion is set to continue as part of a staged roll-out as market acceptance of electric vehicles increases and sales volumes grow.

Citroën has also confirmed that the after-sales EV network will be extended from the 11 initial specialist dealers to a network of around 100 locations over the coming months.

Extension

All of the newly appointed EV service dealers have already received specialist training as part of the DS5 Hybrid4 launch, allowing them to service and repair C-Zero and future Citroën EV models.

Citroën's EV range will grow at the beginning of 2013 with the introduction of a new electric Berlingo van, which will qualify for the recently announced extension to the Government's EV grant, with a maximum of £8,000 support towards the purchase price of electric commercial vehicles.

Linda Jackson, Citroën UK's Managing Director, said: "2011 marked the introduction of EV's in the UK. 2012 will see the market continue to grow as the technology becomes more accepted by consumers, more manufacturers enter the market and the charging infrastructure continues to develop. Citroën has been at the forefront with C-Zero and this latest announcement confirms the next stage in our development plans."

Life is like a candle it slowly burns away, so try to make the most of it, enjoy it every day. Sometimes the candle flickers, which tends to make less light but then the candle burns steady and again everything is bright. This is just how life is, we get our share of sorrow but like the candle burning, it will be bright again tomorrow.

Loving Wife of Husband Tom, Daughter Christine and Son-in-law John.

£1m revamp at Nuffield

A £1 MILLION revamp of Wolverhampton's Nuffield Hospital, including a new minor operations unit, has been unveiled by health bosses. The hospital, run by private group Nuffield Health, has undergone a 12-month makeover.

Patients can now enjoy a new reception area, individual consulting rooms and updated en-suite bedrooms.

The new day-case surgical theatre will cater for operations done under local anaesthetic and chief executive Tony Avery said they plan to open a new cosmetic and laser eye surgery service as well.

"We wanted to enhance the patient areas and give it a modern, almost boutique feel, to make patients feel as comfortable as possible," he said.

Last year, Nuffield Health was named Private Hospital Group of the year.

Hospitals to cut discharge time in bid to aid efficiency

HOSPITAL trusts in the Black Country and Staffordshire have launched drives to cut the amount of time it takes to discharge patients in a bid to improve efficiency.

Bosses at Sandwell Hospital are aiming to reduce the average length of stay from just under four days to three-and-a-half days in a move that could save £4 million next year. Similar schemes are also in place in Dudley, Wolverhampton and Staffordshire.

Vivien Hall, chief operating officer at The Royal Wolverhampton Hospitals NHS Trust, said: "We are constantly reviewing patient pathways to ensure patients receive optimum care."

Sandwell and West Birmingham Hospitals Trust spokesman Vanya Rogers said they were looking at a number of ideas.

These included bringing patients in to hospital on the day of their planned surgery rather than the night before, planning for their discharge from the time they are admitted to reduce delays once they are ready to go home and ensuring all patients are reviewed by a senior doctor each day.

She said they were also looking at ways they can get the drugs patients need more quickly.

"The money calculation is quite a complex one but basically it could be up to £4million next year," she said.

Meanwhile, Paula Clark, chief executive, the Dudley Group NHS Foundation Trust, which runs Russells Hall Hospital, said: "The trust is always looking at ways to reduce patients' length of stay if clinically appropriate to do so."

At Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust, medical director Manjit Obhrai said they had set up a special group to improve efficiency.

Cleaning business bought up

A BLACK Country business specialising in the sales and service of industrial cleaning machines has been bought by the giant Nilfisk Group.

ICM – Industrial Cleaning Machines – of Showell Road, Bushbury, Wolverhampton, was established in 1986 and has customers across the UK.

Normal

The head office includes a workshop and logistical centre in Wolverhampton offering machine refurbishment.

Nilfisk, which has its international headquarters in Denmark, is one of the world's largest manufacturers of professional cleaning equipment.

Martin Chambers, director of operations and service for Nilfisk UK, said: "The acquisition of ICM in the Midlands is a perfect fit for us and it will be very much business as normal in Wolverhampton."

Proms limos are facing spot checks

LIMOUSINES carrying pupils to school proms are facing spot checks in a crackdown by council chiefs. Wolverhampton City Council is planning to step up inspections of limousines during "prom season" in the summer.

It comes two years after the council was criticised for delaying dozens of pupils for an hour on the night of their prom by running checks. Councils are being asked to gather evidence for West Midlands traffic commissioner Nick Jones, who oversees licensing of vehicles that carry more than eight people.

Seatbelts

Councils are responsible for limousines that carry up to eight passengers. Council officials will be looking over vehicles to make sure they are roadworthy, that passengers are wearing seatbelts and that the limousines are not carrying too many people. Plans for the spot checks were revealed in a report due to go before Wolverhampton City Council's licensing committee.

Chris Hathaway, of Novelty Limos, which runs vehicles in Birmingham, Wolverhampton and Walsall, said: "If a driver has two or three jobs booked in these checks can cause major problems for them."

In 2008 Wolverhampton's trading standards department sent 11 female council workers on a sting operation by posing as a rowdy hen party to carry out checks.

TIPS OF THE WEEK

If things don't seem to be going according to plan, don't forget builders aren't mind readers. Take a moment to spell out your problem and explain carefully what you do want.

Talk to the 'main person'. Telling sub-contractors to change things mid-construction will not only cause problems within the team but also confuse everyone as to what it is you really want.

If you are planning to sell your home make don't ignore 'unseen factors' such as damp proofing, tidy guttering, efficient drains, good pointing and secure roof tiles. These are all factors that may persuade a buyer to put an offer on your house rather than the one next door.

Finally, now that spring has arrived don't forget to check exterior timber for signs of decay and check your exterior paintwork to see how it has held up over the winter.

NOTICE TO READERS
Please be aware that when purchasing a puppy there are some simple guidelines you can follow to ensure that you are not purchasing from a Puppy Farmer:
1. Try to ensure you visit the puppy whilst it is still with it's Mother.
2. Do not arrange to collect a puppy from any other location than that of the breeder.
3. Ensure that you are given any KC documentation, if pedigree.
Whilst Midland News Association publications take great care to avoid publication of advertisements from Puppy Farmers we cannot accept any liability should readers purchase from this kind of establishment.

SELF MOTIVATED MORNING PERSON NEEDED
Between 7.00am and 3.30pm Monday - Friday our Despatch Manager needs a reliable all-rounder to provide some much needed support!
You would need to be computer literate (or at the very least not scared of computers) and happy to turn your hand to anything, from filling the coffee machine to helping to make sure our New York office is fully stocked with phones for our busiest months!
You will need great attention to detail, and be able to work without supervision. You would also need to be fairly active, as we suspect the role will require you to be up and about for most of the day.
No experience is necessary, however you will need to be willing to learn and have a good sense of humour and plenty of patience. Own transport essential as we are in the middle of Cannock Chase!
If you think you fit the bill -
- then send your C.V. and covering letter to careers@mobell.com by 9th April 2012

TEMPORARY SUMMER SALES SUPERSTARS NEEDED
If you would love a job that will look great on your C.V., have the knack for sales, able to start as soon as possible and have the ability to work through the summer, then this could be the job for you!
We need enthusiastic sales-orientated people to come and join our team for the summer months. No cold calling required, just the ability to sell snow to Eskimos (or at the very least international phones to Americans).
Our established Customer Service Team was overwhelmed by the sheer number of incoming calls last year so we are looking for some new faces to compliment the team and sell, sell, sell!!!
Our hours are a little unusual;
being 1:45pm to 10:15pm, Mon to Thurs and 12:45pm to 9:15pm on Fridays, but this could mean a lie-in every day in addition to working in beautiful forest surroundings (based in Cannock Chase, Staffs).
While having your own transport is essential, we do offer free parking and no need to travel at rush hour!
If this sounds like the perfect challenge, please send your C.V. and covering letter to careers@mobal.com by 9th April 2012.

California dream for Lakeside

LAKESIDE entertained Californian team Santa Barbara in their first ever international friendly in front of a packed crowd at Rugeley Power Station.

Both teams lined up as both national anthems were played by a brass band that set the tone for a superb game of football.

In the first 10 minutes Lakeside found themselves pinned in their own half but Santa Barbara failed to take advantage of their chances.

Lakeside made them pay as their first attack resulted in a goal following a strong run and cross from Alex Hackett. It was met at the near post by Callum Coynet.

Just before half time the Santa Barbara keeper made a great save to deny Jake Avery's close-range header.

He prevented Lakeside scoring in the second half but Santa Barbara took control for the last 20 minutes and hit three goals despite Lakeside keeper Sam Mullings being in fantastic form.

The Lakeside and Santa Barbara teams line up together before their game at Rugeley Power Station that the American youngsters won 3-1

Scholars shrug off sickness

Barwell Reserves 0
Chasetown Reserves 0

THE bug-ridden Scholars successfully defended their first-leg one-goal advantage with a goalless draw at Barwell to reach the final of the Midland Combination Trophy.

No fewer than six players have suffered the mysterious illness that had forced training to be cancelled.

Two players were too ill to make the journey to Leicestershire and Tom Brown had to be replaced by Samson Alalade after 20 minutes.

The worry that more players would not last the 90 minutes was a huge concern for Andrew Penny who had also been a victim. .

Despite these concerns, the Scholars did what was necessary by not conceding.

Karl Edwards produced a spectacular volley on 26 minutes which Leon Oswald saved brilliantly. Jack Hulin and Jamie Aiton both fashioned fine headers from Chad Degville corners.

In the dying minutes the Scholars almost suffered an embarrassing setback but Barwell's Shaun Robinson's ambitious chip bounced awkwardly and hit the crossbar.

Final glory just eludes successful Under-16s

AFTER a long, hard and fantastic season, last weekend saw Cannock Under-16s enter the National Finals, held at their base at Four Crosses.

It represented an amazing achievement for a team with a large percentage of their players 12 months younger than the opponents they were facing throughout the season.

Cannock's first group game was against a Wycombe team with several England players and ones who had major honours.

But hard-working Cannock were more than a match for their opponents with vice-captain Dan 'Tank at the Back' Hoare leading by example along with fellow defenders Louie Morris, Mitch Bosi, Ethan Sweeney and Liam Middleton.

Despite keeping the ball well, Wycombe pressed the ball and put Cannock under pressure.

Chances

As the half progressed Cannock turned possession hockey into a more direct and aggressive style of play thanks to the neat play by midfield magicians captain Jeevan Dhanda, the faultless Tom Bunn and midfield general Reece Jecketts.

With the ball now further forward Cannock began to create chances and half way through the first half Gurpal Mann, who produced his best performance in a Cannock shirt, won a short corner.

Cannock opened the scoring when the set-piece was stopped perfectly at the top of the D to allow Dhanda to pass the ball across to Bunn who stopped the ball dead for Jecketts to slip it into the bottom left corner.

Cannock hockey

The second half was a scrappy affair with both sides receiving yellow cards.

Chances were missed by both sides, with Cannock goalkeeper Ollie Balcombe producing a great performance that drew praise from spectators after the game.

Despite relying on their keeper Cannock created chances and were thrilled to open their tournament with a superb 1-0 victory.

Later in the day Cannock took on Old Loughtonians in a game that was played with a great intensity and superb quality with Old Loughtonians running out 2-0 winners.

Sunday morning brought the challenge of Neston South Wirral, who had lost both games on the Saturday.

Cannock required a six-goal victory and a favour from Wycombe against Old Loughts to go through.

The boys were superb and scored through Louie Morris to gain the early momentum. Forwards Callum Stacey, Callum Swinnerton, Cameron Beswick, Gurpal Mann, Ed Carr and Dave McMaster all worked tirelessly, pressing and moving for the ball.

With about half of the first half gone, Cannock defended a short corner which Hoare charged down but a clash with a Neston player left him with a broken collarbone.

Despite the shock, Cannock pushed forward and scored two more first-half goals though Jecketts and captain Dhanda but could not add any in the seond period.

Not that the result mattered as Old Loughts beat Wycombe 4-0.

Stop

The victory meant Cannock had finished second in their group and faced Ben Rydding in the third place play-off.

After a long weekend, Cannock, looking mentally and physically tired, team slipped to a 5-0 defeat.

Special mention must go to Jake Bilson, who after only playing for 12 months and not being able to stop a ball 10 months ago, made an appearance in the finals.

He fully deserved his place after showing great commitment and determination for the Cannock cause.

The result meant Cannock finished in fourth place in the Boys National Championships – a fantastic achievement for such a young side.

Old Loughts beat Belper 5-2 in the final to be crowned champions but the game against them showed Cannock were inches from victory and only two short corners were difference between them and the best side in the country.

This season has brought huge success for the Cannock youngsters and it has all been deserved. The titles they have won are the Midlands Outdoor and Indoor Championship and Regional Outdoor Championship. They were also National Indoor and Outdoor finalists.

Coach Alex Hill said he was proud and honoured to have lead such a special bunch of players.

Early try but still no victory in sight

Rugeley 8 Bishops Castle 32

RUGELEY welcomed Bishops Castle to Hagley Field and not for the first time this season allowed the visitors to score within the first 30 seconds.

Rugeley came right back at the visitors with some great defensive play as they chased their elusive first league win of the season

The forwards held the visitors well in their 22metres when scrum half Cei Griffin made an opportunist pick-up and run for an impressive try, which Tom Wilson converted.

Rugeley continued to hold the visitors until the 33rd minute when they managed to sneak a try in the right corner to level the score.

The second period started with Rugeley pushing hard to gain their first win.

Rugeley's defence was as solid as a rock with Liam Morrison, Nathan Homer and Pagett frustrating the visiting forwards.

In the 19th minute of the second period a neck injury caused Chris Dynda to go off, changing the structure of the game and allowing the visitors to break through and score right under the posts. They missed the conversion.

Rugeley continued to play with fire and determination but once again Bishops Castle pulled away from the pack and ran down the left wing to score a converted try.

In the last six minutes Rugeley seemed to lose their vision and allowed the visitors to take the game right to them and score twice more with one converted.

Men of the match were Morrison and Homer.

Diamond day sees Karen hit four goals

Lichfield Diamonds Ladies 7
Stafford Town LFC 0

DIAMONDS notched up their biggest West Midland Women's Premier League win of the season with an emphatic victory over Stafford.

Karen Clough put Diamonds in front midway through the first half and took her tally to four before half-time. Caitlin Harper also found the net to make it 5-0 at the break.

It should have been a goal glut in the second half but good defending and some poor finishing limited Diamonds to just two further strikes from Kim Hill and Alison Livermore, who took player of the match award.

Lichfield Diamonds U16 1
Red Street U16 1

A season of draws continued for Diamonds, this one mainly down to the visitors' keeper, who was in fine form.

Caitlin Harper put Diamonds in front midway throught the first half. A well-hit free-kick from Skye Hart, a dipping volley from Paige Cartwright and an effort from Harper were all well saved. At the other end, Diamonds keeper Elsie Baxter reacted quickly to push over a well-struck volley.

The second half followed a similar pattern with Taylor Hitchcock, Jose Balla and Mayleigh Harper all forcing good saves from the inspired keeper before Red Street caught Diamonds on the break to level the score.

Burntwood Phoenix U13 0
Lichfield Diamonds U13 4

A tight opening showed Burntwood how much they had improved this season, forcing Diamonds to raise their game. Eventually the pressure began to build and Hannah Yousef and Jade Butler each bagged a brace.

Lichfield Diamonds U12 0
Hednesford Utd U12 0

This draw effectively secured the title for Diamonds. Midfielder Charlotte Jarvis was dominant as was Megan Davey, who played just in front, with Molly Jowett and Rhiana Cleverly outside them.

At the back, Chloe Dobson, Kelly Craythorne and Mae Murphy were outstanding as they limited Hednesford's goal threat. The one time they were breached, keeper Anna Hill bravely dived at the striker's feet to smother the ball. Tilly Wellard came on for her debut and Sian Davey went on to help close the game out and secure the point.

Late try for vital relegation-fight point

Burntwood 22
Lordswood Dixonians 16

IN the last minute of their final SSE Midlands Two West North League home game of the season Burntwood scored a fourth try to earn what could be a vital bonus point win over relegation rivals Dixonians.

Unfortunately, Matt Wood could not add the touchline conversion so the visitors recorded a losing bonus point to stay four points above Burntwood with two rounds of matches to play.

Graham Shelley's men were not at their best with basic handling errors with only one successful kick at goal from six attempts keeping the visitors interested until the final whistle.

Dixonians went ahead with a penalty goal after seven minutes. Burntwood responded well to take play into opposition territory for the next 15 minutes.

The first possession moved out to the backs but was spilled on 10 minutes. Four minutes later, after taking a scrum against the put-in, Lloyd Shelley did well to feed Ben Holt but the full-back was tackled to halt the move.

Dixonians turned the tide, helped by the award of two penalties, but Burntwood won turnover ball in their own 22 which was the prelude to a fine length of the field try. Skipper Shelley booted the ball upfield for Holt to gather and link with his skipper. Ian Jones and Hal Gozukucuk provided more support before putting lock forward Amrit Derry in for the try.

Burntwood barely had time to enjoy the score before they conceded a soft try in the corner that was superbly converted.

Gozukucuk kept his side on the attack with a fine run. Craig Prosser was up in support to feed Mitch Adams but he was held up.

With half-time pending, Burntwood edged ahead. Fielding a Dixonians kick out of defence, Gozukucuk and Holt worked the ball to the left. When it came back to the right, Graham Shelley was on hand to touch down for a try which was converted. In the process, a visiting flanker was yellow carded.

Dixonians opened the scoring in the second half with a penalty. For a 20-minute spell Burntwood were their own worst enemies by committing a series of handling errors.

Luckily, Dixonians failed to capitalise fully but moved further ahead with another penalty.

With 10 minutes left the home side finally clicked into action. Mark Poole took a difficult pass from Dan Thornton to set his side in motion. Wood broke over halfway and chipped over the last defender. The bounce evaded him but Holt followed for the try.

With two minutes of added time played, Gozukucuk went on another charge. Slick passing by Lloyd Shelley and Craig Seedhouse freed Holt for a run in.

Burntwood Rugby

Hayes are punished for errors

Rocester 5 Heath Hayes 2

BOTH teams came into this game looking to end losing runs but once more a patched-up Hayes made too many basic errors to hand the home side a much-needed victory.

It took the Romans 20 minutes to get their first goal when Jordan Nadat's corner eluded the static Hayes defence and Mensah Kinch had a simple tap-in.

Hayes then lost Chris Geldart with an ankle injury and his replacement, Andy McMath, headed home the equaliser with almost his first touch.

Then came a mad 10-minute spell when the Hayes defence conceeded three sloppy goals.

The vistors rearguard backed off and allowed Jack Langston time and space to fire home from 20 yards and then Craig Holland got the third before Nadat added a fourth.

Hayes finished the half the stronger and McMath forced home his second goal of the day to give his side hope.

However, this was short-lived as Nadat was gifted his side's fifth within two minutes of the restart.

Pitmen draw a blank as play-off bid stalls

HEDNESFORD surrendered more ground on their Evo-Stik Northern Premier play-off rivals after a frustrating stalemate at Keys Park.

Their victory chances were not helped when striker Gary Hay limped off injured after just 13 minutes.

The Pitmen, to their credit, passed the ball efficiently throughout the match but Nantwich centre-halves Matt Bailey and Rod McDonald dominated Andre Landell in the air and were rarely troubled by the home side.

Nantwich played a counter-attacking game and went close when a Simon Everall header hit the post but their strikers were largely marshalled well by Cheyenne Dunkley and Jermaine Johnson.

Hednesford 0
Nantwich 0

Hednesford's Chris Clements saw a shot from the left angle of the area palmed away by Jon Brain on 27 minutes and the home side enjoyed the vast majority of attacking possession in the opening half hour.

But, as has been the case in the past three months, they lacked punch up front.

The away side came back into the game towards half-time with Dan Crane being called into action to palm away a shot by Michael Lennon on 37 minutes.

He again went close on the hour mark as Zak Foster got to the byline and crossed, only to see Lennon's shot blocked on the line.

The hosts introduced Elliott Durrell and Nick Wellecomme in the second half but, despite moving to a 4-4-2 formation, they continued to face a wall of defiance from Bailey and McDonald.

The best chance for Hednesford came on 82 minutes when Wellecomme challenged the goalkeeper and found Landell, who nodded home, but the effort was flagged off-side.

McDonald headed over in the final minute for Nantwich.

Despite a solid performance, the Pitmen will rue the fact they lost a further two points on the other teams in the promotion shake up.

FC United, Chorley, Bradford Park Avenue and Marine all won and Rob Smith's team now probably need to win all five of their remaining matches to sneak into the final play-off spot.

Hednesford: Crane, Haynes, Shaw, Dunkley, Johnson, Denn, Osborne, Clements, Blakeman (Wellecomme 67), Hay (Landell 14), Craven (Durrell 56), Subs not used: Jevons, Ordish.

Nantwich: Brain, Lowe, White, Hughes (Cooke 79), Bailey, McDonald, Urwin, MacPherson, Everall (Lane 72), Lennon, Foster (Flynn 64). Subs not used: Maguire, Moss.

Celebrations at the end of a milestone year

Captain Peter Allen is pictured presenting the Master's Horn to the winner Peter Redding at Beau Desert

The annual prize presentation was held at the end of a milestone year for Beau Desert Golf Club .

Captain Peter Allen presented prizes to the male members who had won major competitions during the year.

Members enjoyed a dinner and were entertained by local comedian Ian 'Sludge' Lees.

The club celebrated its 100th anniversary during 2011, having been founded as Hednesford Golf Club in 1911, subsequently acquiring the Marquis of Anglesey's course in 1921.

Beau Desert is one of the premier courses in the Midlands and has hosted many competitions over the years including 15 Open Championship qualifiers. The in-coming captain for 2012, Bob Barratt, said he was looking forward to leading the club into its second century.

No case for the defence

Tividale 3 Heath Hayes 1

HAYES were undone by more sloppy defending as they slipped to defeat at Tividale.

The visitors made a nightmare start and they found themselves two down after only severn minutes.

Michael Woolman skillfully left the Hayes defence for dead to set up Kyle Hill for the opening goal.

Richard Taylor then created the opening for Woolman to grab a second.

It took a couple more narrow escapes before the visitors steadied the ship but they gradually got themselves back into the game.

Andy McMath should have reduced the deficit but his shot was parried by Tim Beech and then his follow-up effort was cleared off the line by Andrew Parsons.

Dave Waples shaved the bar while Stevie Allen was denied by Beech.

But the hosts made it three when the Hayes defence stood thinking the ball had gone out of play and the alert Danny Ashton hooked the ball into the net.

Hayes netted a consolation effort through Bradley Woolridge.

Top bowls has £2,000 prize cash to be won

CHADSMOOR Progressive WMC in Cannock will host the £2,000 Les Evans Memorial classic bowls competition on Easter Monday (10.30am start).

Total prize money has been substantially increased to £2,000 thanks to sponsors Osprey Water Management, Mel Evans, Lynn Pritchatt and Albert Redding.

The top quality line-up includes reigning champion Craig Barker (M&B Cheslyn Hay) who opens his title defence against Potteries' Dean Ferris.

Making his first appearance in the event is 2011 BCGBA All England champion Mike Riley, from Wales, who faces Steve Wallace (Birmingham) in his opening game.

Three-times winner Lee Lawton (Failsworth) is among eight other former winners in the draw, along with Callum Wraight, Chris Brown, Andrew Spragg, Tommy Johnstone, Kerry Morris, Gordon Hawkins and Craig Barker.

The eventual winner will receive the £500 first prize.

Wanderers double up

Wyrley Wanderers U10s 1
Brewood Hawks 0

WYRLEY WANDERERS hit form to sink top of the table Brewood Hawks in their way to a double success.

Billy Ford bagged the only goal of the game while Wanderers keeper James Foster made some fine saves to clinch the win.

Wanderers then clipped the Tipton Hawks' wings in their second outing of the day.

Braden O'Shea was the star of the show for Wyrley with both goals in a 2-0 success.

After opening the scoring, O'Shea struck again before the break following some excellent work from Ben Colgrove.

Pitmen searching for a cutting edge

by Craig Birch

HEDNESFORD boss Rob Smith today warned his attackers they will "struggle" at home to Kendal on Saturday if they play "with a similar lack of bite up front."

The Pitmen face an all-the-more crucial Evo-Stik Northern Premier League fixture at the weekend after a home blank in a goalless draw with Nantwich last Saturday.

That left Smith's men trailing the play-off spots, which they dropped out of last month for the first time since September, by three points with five games left to play.

And the manager insists they simply must start firing on all cylinders if they are to reclaim their place in the Blue Square North after a six-year absence.

Smith said: "We must improve massively if we are to get anything. If we play with a similar lack of bite up front against Kendal we will struggle again."

A powder-puff attacking display last Saturday was not helped by an injury to striker Gary Hay, the experienced 35-year-old replaced after just 13 minutes.

A leg injury put paid to him and replacement Andre Landell proved ineffective, as did substitutes Elliott Durrell and Nick Wellecomme.

It left Smith's side with just four league wins from 16 games in 2012 and the Pitmen boss believes the Nantwich display summed up their year.

He said: "It was not the first time. I can point to many games since Christmas where the players have shown a lack of mental strength.

"We have done nothing different to earlier in the season but they have not been able to cope for whatever reason.

"Gary Hay going off injured early on didn't help but I was disappointed in our forward play again after that, as I have been for some time.

"We pushed for a winner because we needed and wanted to win, but we just huffed and puffed with no real quality."

One saving grace for the Pitmen is that they now possess a game in hand on all but one of the top five.

Only their immediate rivals, fifth-placed FC United of Manchester, have played the same amount of matches as Smith's side.

League leaders Chester won 3-0 at Kendal on Tuesday night, while play-off rivals Northwich Victoria won 1-0 at Chasetown.

Fellow promotion contenders Chorley blew their lines on Monday night, losing 1-0 at Bradford Park Avenue.

SCHOLARS IN NEED OF HOME COMFORT

CHASETOWN'S Evo-Stik Northern Premier League survival push was checked in midweek as they suffered more problems on the home front.

Despite working hard throughout the contest, the Scholars slipped to a 1-0 defeat to high-flying Northwich Victoria – their 10th league reverse at Church Street this season.

Chasetown 0
Northwich 1

The Scholars went into the clash in confident mood having bagged an impressive 4-1 success at Kendal Town on Saturday.

But the defeat leaves them looking anxiously over their shoulder again as they sit two points clear of the drop zone.

Northwich had few chances during a close-fought game, but on 13 minutes Chris Slater was beaten on the byline and a low ball across the face of goal was side-footed home by Tony Evans.

Claims for a Scholars penalty following a challenge on Danny Quinn two minutes later were waved away with Gary Birch then shooting wide.

Chasetown's defence stood up well against the play-off contenders and Northwich's only chances came via a couple of corners.

For the hosts, Birch enjoyed a couple of further openings while Courtney Pitt went close with a free-kick that flew over the bar and then forced keeper Ben Hinchcliffe into action from a corner.

Hinchcliffe also palmed away an angled shot from Quinn as the second half began with Chasetown again enjoying the majority of chances.

Pitt and Danny Smith also went close as the hosts pushed in search of an equaliser.

Pitt then found Birch in space on the right but his cross was saved by Hinchcliffe.

The visiting keeper was pressed into further action when he punched clear another attempt by Pitt.

The Scholars did not look frustrated and continued with guile and determination.

But neither side would find the target and it was the visitors who headed back to Cheshire with three points to close the gap on leaders Chester FC.

Chasetown's night was summed up when a shot from Birch shot rattled off the front of the Crown Cutting Services Stand and landed in a rubbish bin.

Chasetown now travel to Chorley on Saturday (3pm) before taking on local rivals Hednesford Town on Easter Monday (3pm).

Chasetown: Evans, Farmer, M Branch, Slater, Charlton, Hands, Smith, Lycett, Birch (Archer 85), Quinn (Perrow 72), Pitt (Bridgewater 80). Subs not used: Teesdale, Downes.
